

NIGHT EDITION

MANY LIVES LOST

Severe Storm Swept Along the English Coast

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The English coast is strewn with wreckage as a result of a storm that has continued for two days. The casualty list as already reported is a long one.

This morning the bodies of five seamen from the coasting steamer Cranford were picked up off Hartlepool. It is believed that the vessel, which carried a crew of twenty, foundered and that the men were attempting to reach shore in a small boat when they were lost.

Some of the wreckage coming ashore indicates that a sailing ship met a like fate. Lifeboats from many points were out all last night and in some instances effected rescues. In other cases they were unable to reach the distressed craft.

IN POLICE COURT

Non-Support Cases Heard Today

Non-support cases took up the greater portion of this morning's session of the police court. There were several other cases, but they were despatched in quick order.

Albert Golder was charged with failing to provide proper support for his wife, Julia A. Mrs. Golder testified in court and brought with her a small child, who, despite his loud outcries and his strenuous work, pleased the gathering. Mrs. Golder told how her husband had neglected her and also that her husband had wandered away from the city, forgetting about her and coming home when he wanted to. The court after considering the case found the defendant guilty and ordered him to pay his wife $4.25 a week.

In the case of Pierre Parent, charged with neglecting to provide for his wife, a very peculiar case was brought to the attention of the court. It seems that the couple have been married before and both have had children. The wife of the defendant has four children and the man has three. The man and wife do not live together because it is alleged that the money earned by the children is not paid over to the parents. One of the parties wants the entire money while the other feels that board would be sufficient.

The court, after listening to the case, dismissed it.

neglecting to remove a vault after being ordered to do so by the board of health. He had admitted that he was guilty. The complaint was to the effect that he allowed a vault to be used at a house in the rear of 21 Front street. Lawyer Murphy, representing the board of health, claimed that the man had received previous notice to remove the vault and had refused to do so. After the testimony had been offered, the court found him guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $10.

In the case of Eddie L. Gray, charged with keeping swine, counsel agreed that the matter might go over till Oct. 21, and the court agreed.

Henry Parlee, who was to have been brought before the regular court, was arraigned in the juvenile court, owing to his age, and while the charge preferred against him was that of shooting a gray squirrel, Judge Hadley decided to place the boy on probation.

Charles T. Roy, who recently appeared before the court and was placed on probation for several months, was continued for three months.

Timothy McCarthy and James Lahill were charged with being drunk, and after being found guilty by the court were each fined $5. There were several first offenders, who were fined $2 each, and several simple drunks, who were released.

Superior Court

Evidence Finished in Page-B. & M. Case

The case of Page vs. Boston & Maine which has been on trial in the superior court since Monday was finished as far as the testimony was concerned and a jury was empaneled in the case of Doherty vs. Hardman et al. an action of contract.

Arguments on the Page case were then taken up.

A STRANGE CASE

Man Does Not Know Who Employs Him

Vittorio Giuseppe, who claims he has no home, does not know who he is working for and refuses to divulge any information to either the police or Agent Richardson, was arrested recently before noon today by Patrolman Philip Murphy on a complaint charging him with abusing a horse.

The horse was passing through Bridge street attached to a tip cart when Patrolman Murphy noticed that the animal was suffering from sores on its back. He questioned the driver, but being unable to secure any information started to take him and his outfit to the station. On the way Agent Richardson of the Lowell Humane society put in an appearance and after examining the animal found that it had several sores and should not be used for service.

The man who was placed under arrest refused to make any statement, he claimed that he did not know who he was working for, did not know where he was going, neither did he know where he came from.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 14.—Discussion of the proposal to change the name of the church was expected to be resumed today by the house of deputies in the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church. The question was before the convention in the form of a minority report from the committee on the proposal to change the title page of the book of common prayer which recommended that the name "Protestant" before "Episcopal church in the United States of America" be dropped and a recommendation that the church be a part of the Holy Catholic church be inserted.

The house of bishops was expected to again take up the new canon pertaining to suffragan bishops.

A joint session of the two houses was on the program for today.

The junior auxiliary and the women's auxiliary were scheduled to hold a joint conference. Bishops Graves of Shanghai, Horner of Asheville and Paddock of East Oregon were listed as speakers.

A mass meeting of the Girls' Friendly Society in America is to be addressed by Bishops Osborne and Spalding.

FIRE STILL BURNING

Tewksbury Blaze Believed to be Pretty Well Under Control

The peat and woodland fire in Tewksbury is still burning, but at 2 o'clock this afternoon it was stated that it was pretty well under control. The fire is in a place known as "great swamp" and there is a lot of peat there.

During the Civil war when the fuel ran short peat was taken from "great swamp" and sold in this city. The excavations are still to be seen and in many places there is peat to a depth of seven feet. This is already on fire and will burn indefinitely unless there is a heavy fall of rain. If a field that was plowed Monday the sod was on fire yesterday. This was due to the quantity of peat in the sod.

The land burned over yesterday was owned by William Cogger and John R. Martin of this city, the Chemical company, John Jessop and one or two others. There are no buildings in "great swamp" but just beyond it there are buildings and there is yet danger that they may be reached.

Yesterday it became necessary to drive cattle out of adjacent pasture land. Two little pigs that got in the path of the flames were rescued by the fire fighters. So far as the pigs were concerned everything was saved, even to the squeals.

SCHEME TO DEFRAUD

Is Charge Made Against Investment Company of Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—The government prosecuting attorneys, continued investigation today into the business of the Redeemable Investment Co., whose books were taken and local manager arrested yesterday on a warrant charging the use of the mails in a scheme to defraud. Assistant Attorney-General Garland said today that strong efforts were being made to locate Rev. Norman Pliss, the alleged organizer of the company, before he reaches British Columbia, to which country he is said to be journeying on business.

Mrs. Pliss, the wife of the minister, stated today that her husband left early in the week to look after certain timber interests, in or near Vancouver. Mrs. Pliss also said today that her husband resigned two weeks ago as president of the Redeemable Investment Co. The government officials have no information of that kind today but stated that when they arrived at the offices yesterday they found the name of Mr. Pliss on the door as president. It is reported today that Mr. Pliss resigned at the request of the directors of the company. The government authorities admitted today that one of the companies advertised as being wholly or in part controlled by the Redeemable Investment Co. was the Norman Pliss Lumber Co. of British Columbia.

The charge upon which the warrant against Manager Brooks was based was made by William B. Angell of this city, the claim being, according to the government officials, that the resources of the company did not come up to the specifications of the circulars upon which the investments have been made. The company, the government officials say, claimed to have $250,000 deposited in a national bank here as a guarantee fund but it is alleged that the amount is much less than that sum.

The offices of the company were open today but the attendants were very reticent regarding yesterday's episode although Attorney Feeney of the company stoutly maintained that the government had made a mistake and that a complete investigation would prove it.

Defending Mr. Brooks, Mr. Feeney said that he was convicted in St. Louis through the influence of Senator Burton.

"Soon after the supreme court confirmed the verdict," said Mr. Feeney, "Mr. Brooks came on to Washington, saw Attorney General Moody one day and accompanied Solicitor General Hoyt to the White House at 3 p. m. the same day and at 4 p. m. he had been pardoned by President Roosevelt."

FOR NEW SEWERS

A. C. Wheelock and Others Petition

Two petitions were considered at a meeting of the committee on sewers held last night. The first was a petition by A. C. Wheelock and others, that back Central street be placed in condition for smooth paving as regards sewers. There were no petitioners present, and Mr. W. D. Fay said he knew of no reason for a sewer in the vicinity of Central street, near Church street.

for a sewer, but it was entered as preparatory to a new street. Sarah A. Messer petitioned for a sewer in Grand street, near Westford street. It was shown that a man by the name of Wolfe owned property nearby, through which flowed sewage from the petitioner's house, and after ordering the petitioner to discontinue the condition, he objected to a new sewer.

The petitioner said she thought she ought to have the sewer and she was willing to pay for it. Mr. Wolfe said he would let the petitioner use the sewer for $6 a year rental, together with a guarantee that half of the expenses of maintenance should be paid. This was not agreeable to the petitioner.

The committee voted to table both the Central and Grand street petitions.

POOL PARLORS

CONDUCTED BY HENRY F. CARR IN GORHAM ST. A BIG SUCCESS.

Columbus day was pretty generally observed. In some parts of the city, but particularly around Gorham street, and while passing through this thoroughfare my attention was attracted to the pool parlors of Henry F. Carr, located in the Bonhoe building, just above the post office, as they seemed to be the most popular recreation rooms in that section of the city. The place had assumed the holiday aspect and in order further to satisfy my curiosity I inquired of the owner and was informed that it was the sixth anniversary of the establishment of the emporium, having catered to the public of the city and the city for the past six years. Being well acquainted with the proprietor I was pleased to see that he had had such grand success in the novel enterprise which he practically inaugurated in this section.

A gentleman who calls at the establishment is always sure of receiving courteous treatment and fair, honest dealings. And a foreigner as well as native born is sure of receiving the same treatment, and no better proof of this statement would be given than in seeing the large patronage he receives from the Portuguese. The tables are considered among the very best in the city and the emporium is large, spacious and airy, and well lighted, and has all the conveniences that anyone might desire. The business of pool and billiards is not the only enterprise that Henry F. Carr has taken an interest in, as he is by all odds one of the leaders in the cigar and tobacco trades in the retail line. His sales are among the largest of any retail tobacco store in the city, while his collections of tobacco tags far outnumber the other merchants of the city. This branch of the business is one which he has made a study of, and what he does not know about the business is hard to discern. Last year his tags figured far above all his expectations, having received thousands upon thousands, which he exchanged for useful and ornamental articles and at one time this branch of his business grew to such proportions that he had to branch out into another floor in the building in which he is located.

If appearances foreshadow anything it certainly shows that Mr. Carr has succeeded in his chosen business which is ever increasing and proves conclusively that it is his popularity which has brought him to the front as one of the leading amusement purveyors of that section of the city. With one success following another as has been his good luck since embarking into his business it would not be surprising if within a short time he should break ground for a building of his own and for his line of business.

When the visitor inquired as to what he credited his successful career, this was his reply: "When I started in business I knew that one of the best motives which I could build my business on was this: 'Do things on the level.' With this as my only guiding point I opened up this establishment and judging from the success which has attended my endeavors for the past six years, I believe the motto is a good one. If you should ask any

IS CALLED A SPY

Charge Made Against a Publisher

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A committee of six, composed of representatives of various Russian revolutionary bodies, made public their verdict that Alexander N. Evalenko, a publisher, was guilty of having been chief spy of the czar's government in this city. The committee was appointed at Evalenko's own request, when charges were made against him Sept. 26, 1909, by Vladimir Bourtsch, "the Sherlock Holmes of the Russian Revolution."

The verdict caused a stir on the east side. The Jewish afternoon newspapers published extras with big headlines and pictures of Evalenko and Bourtsch. These were eagerly bought and read. Excited groups of Russian colony and gave voice to loud walls.

The committee consisted of Dr. C. H. Zhilowsky, chairman, and Dr. M. Romme, representing the socialist democratic party; Dr. Paul S. Kaplan, Dr. James Lopotoff, Dr. A. Caspe and H. Burgin. They all signed this statement:

"We find that A. Evalenko is guilty of having been a secret agent of the Russian police department to whom he delivered evidence concerning political immigrants living here, while at the same time he was a member of the Russian social democratic party, of the Bund, of the defunct club of Russian students and of other Russian revolutionary organizations."

KILLED BROTHER

Because He Was Rejected as Partner

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 14.—Because his brother refused to give him a home and partnership in his business, Louis Scherr stabbed his brother, Harry Scherr, to death. The police caught the slayer a few minutes after, the cries of his dying brother attracting scores. Louis Scherr is 22 and his victim was two years older.

When taken to the Central station the slayer told the deputy police marshal that he had planned to kill his brother and had come from New York to carry out his design.

"I don't care what they do with me," said the prisoner. "I don't care if I die now."

A fierce fight occurred in the brother's tailor shop, a neighbor says, before the younger man drew the dagger from his pocket and plunged it in his brother's body.

HORRORS OF JAIL

Lurid Picture Drawn by the Court

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—"The horrors of life imprisonment, a classic delivered from the bench." Such was the title suggested for the following utterance made by Judge Marcus Kavanagh in sentencing Joseph Welcome for life for the murder of Mrs. Mary McLean: "Welcome, you committed a terrible crime. Your punishment is to be more terrible still.

"The instinctive, unreasoning horror of mankind regards death as a severe punishment. This idea is not correct. You are now to receive a sterner punishment. Your victim died but once, you will die a hundred times; you will suffer more the day you put on your prison clothes than she did in her death. After that there will be only the hopeless, painful years from day to day, from month to month, stretching out forever and in agony.

"In four or five years the eternal solitude and silence will begin to crush in upon you like an iron weight. You hear that street car bell ringing in the street as it passes now. You will remember it in after years as the most exquisite music. It will mean hurrying crowds that go where they like and do as they please; it will mean the greatest of all pleasures—freedom.

"You can only dream of it by day and by night, and your dream will be torture unbearable."

THE OPERA HOUSE

Has Plan to Have Tickets Delivered

The somewhat unique and altogether pleasing announcement is made by the management of the Lowell opera house that future telephone orders for tickets will be delivered by special messenger, when the patron so desires. This delivery, of course, will only be made within the city limits, and should prove a great convenience to patrons of the opera house, especially to ladies who do not find it convenient to call or stand in line at the box office, as well as to business men who do not have the time to visit the box office. The city will be divided into routes or districts for the better service of patrons and a special messenger will make a daily delivery of tickets, for which the person ordering them will sign in a form similar to that used by the telephone companies.

The forms will include blank spaces for the numbers of the seats delivered and their location, the name of the person who ordered them, the amount paid the messenger boy for them, and the time they were received. This plan will go into effect immediately.

Re-Elected President of
A. F. of L.

WORCESTER, Oct. 14.—Thomas J. Durnin of Holyoke was re-elected president and Dennis D. Driscoll, of Boston, secretary-treasurer without opposition at yesterday's session of the convention of the Massachusetts branch of the American Federation of Labor in this city. The following vice presidents were chosen: James W. Wall, Worcester; M. D. Collins, Cambridge; J. J. Menzie, Lawrence; J. W. Powers, Fall River and E. M. Pump, Raynham. After re-electing J. W. Sherman of Boston, chairman of the legislative committee and choosing three other members of that committee the convention was forced to take several ballots before it could elect a fifth member. Those chosen were Henry Stirling of Boston; J. J. Griffin of Lynn and W. E. Sproule of Lowell.

Charles A. Cullen of Worcester was elected delegate to the national convention of the federation. It was voted to hold next year's meeting in Haverhill. The convention is expected to last through today.

BOTH INJURED

PUGILISTS MET WITH PAINFUL INJURIES

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—It was developed that both Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion, and Tommy McFarland of California fought the greatest part of their battle with broken hands. Before the close of the ten-round contest the champion complained of pain in his arm which was broken in his fight with Jack Redmond a few months ago. Wolgast after the contest declared that he would be unable to fight again for five months possibly more, on account of the injury. On the other hand, McFarland, who took the match on two days' notice because Tommy Gary was unable to fight through sickness, jumped into the fray and fought the champion over the full ten rounds. When he left the ring he did not say anything about his left hand, which had been fractured just below the wrist. Next day the hand was swollen to twice its natural size. He had the bone set and the hand and forearm placed in a cast. It still is in the cast and will be for several days.

CHORAL SOCIETY

Another Meeting With
Good Attendance

A well attended meeting of those interested in the formation of a choral society was held last night in the vestry of the First Trinitarian Congregational church. There were about 70 persons present and they were unanimous in favoring an organization. A committee was appointed to bring in a list of names for permanent officers at the next meeting which will be held at the church next Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

William E. Lane is the conductor and the chorus at the present time is excellent, there being many fine voices in the number who have already signified their intention of joining the proposed organization.

The temporary committee voted that four rehearsals be given, before the question of dues should be settled, and that at these four rehearsals the members attending pay 10 cents at each meeting. It is hoped by this plan to gain a large membership, so that the dues for the season can be put at the minimum rate. It is also hoped that a large associate membership can be induced to lend its assistance to the undertaking. There is no doubt whatever about its success, if those who believe in such an organization will talk it up, and give it their active as well as moral support.

RIKER SPECIAL CHOCOLATES

Will be sold tomorrow (Saturday) in our 13 stores in Boston, Lawrence, Lowell, Salem and Brockton.

A year ago this feat would have been impossible, but we feel sure we will do it tomorrow.

Riker's Special is the excellent mixture which we claim is not excelled by any other regularly sold at 40c, and is sold Saturday only at the special price of 29c.

Without a bit of advertising, other than the word of mouth expressions from pleased customers, our sales every succeeding Saturday have grown with leaps and bounds.

Because of the unusual quantity, we began to pack this 8000 pounds of candy yesterday; but ordinarily it comes to you just 2 days old—made on Thursday, packed on Friday and sold on Saturday.

Come in to any of our stores and see it disappear.

You'll agree with us that we will accomplish this remarkable feat.

Don't form any conclusion about the quality from the price. We admit it ought to sell for more money, but we take this method of advertising our candy department. You could pay half as much more and not get a mixture so pure, wholesome and delicious.

Here's the offer—Buy a pound Saturday at 29c, take it home, and if you don't agree with us that you never bought a better candy at 40c, bring it back and get your money. It is sold with the "Riker-Jaynes Guarantee of Satisfaction," and you know that is dependable.

CUSTOMS FRAUDS

Whole Art Establishment Seized
by Customs Inspectors

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The entire Fifth avenue establishment of the five Duveen brothers, known the world over as dealers in rare art objects and antiques, was seized by federal officers late yesterday, and Benjamin J. Duveen, the only member of the firm in the city at the time, was placed under arrest, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government out of customs duties.

Henry J. Duveen was arrested on the Cunard line Lusitania when the vessel reached quarantine late last night. He was taken off on a revenue cutter and hurried to the federal building for arraignment.

Henry A. Wise, U. S. district attorney, in asking for extraordinarily heavy bail when the prisoner was arraigned, said the frauds would reach more than $1,000,000, and that all five brothers were implicated. Bail was fixed at $50,000, which was promptly given, and Duveen was released.

Whole House Seized
Special agents of the department of justice, with warrants, conducted the raid. After placing Benjamin J. Duveen under arrest a search for undervalued articles was begun and more than a van load of "suspicious" goods was found.

It was then decided to place the entire establishment under seizure and leave the customs inspectors in charge of it for the night.

Duveen surrendered the keys of the safe and desk and was taken to the federal building. He explained that he was the only member of the importing firm at present in New York and asked permission to send a wireless message to his brother, Henry J. Duveen, aboard the Cunard Lusitania. The request was granted.

When the prisoner was taken before U. S. Commissioner Shields, District Attorney Wise, in asking for heavy bail, explained that the case was the most important one that the government had thus far had to deal with in importation frauds. In his opinion, $100,000 would be the proper amount of bail. He assured the commissioner that he was in possession of evidence concerning huge revenue frauds which were systematically carried on by the five brothers and a man mentioned in the complaint.

The commissioner decided, however, to set the bail at $50,000, and a temporary bond with real estate as surety was given by counsel for the firm.

The complaint recites that the defendants conspired to defraud the United States out of customs duties upon merchandise imported and to be imported by means of false and fraudulent invoices, affidavits, entries and other practices.

Specifically the complaint refers to three vases which the six defendants are alleged, on Feb. 10, 1908, to have fraudulently entered at this port.

$28,000 Vases Put at $1107
Mr. Wise said last night that information was recently placed in his hands tending to show that the Duveens had for years been defrauding the government out of customs duties on works of art and antique furniture imported from abroad by means of false consular invoices. The records at the custom house were hurriedly overhauled and the records seemed to substantiate the charges, he said.

Collector Loeb was communicated with and he detailed Edwin R. Norwood, acting deputy surveyor of the port, and two customs inspectors to assist in the investigation, which was conducted with the greatest secrecy.

Mr. Wise declined to give the name of his informant. He added that the consular invoice gave the value of the three vases as $1107, while their real value was $28,000.

The firm of Duveen Bros. is composed of Henry J., Joel J., Louis J., Benjamin J. and Joseph J. Duveen. They have establishments not only in New York but in London and Paris.

Last year the Duveens were reported to have paid half a million dollars for a Franz Hals, and at the recent sale of the Yerkes art collection the firm paid $129,000 for Turner's "Rockets and Blue Lights."

While waiting for the bail bond to be made out, Benjamin Duveen said he knew nothing about the importation of the vases alleged to have been undervalued. He explained that little business is done here by the firm during the summer months and that he and his brothers go abroad and attend to matters at the London and Paris branches.

HANGED HIMSELF
A WELL KNOWN BROKER COMMITTED SUICIDE

FALL RIVER, Oct. 14.—Thomas T. Brady of the cotton and cloth brokerage firm of Hurley, Brady & Co., and one of the best known business men in the city, committed suicide by hanging himself in a room at the Mollen house yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Brady had been in poor health of late, and but recently was discharged from a sanitarium to which he had gone for treatment. He left his office in the middle of the forenoon, and when he failed to return after the noon hour his business associates became apprehensive that something might have happened to him and started a search.

At the Mollen house it was learned that Mr. Brady had come there about 12 o'clock and taken a room, explaining that he desired to lie down and rest. Going to the room the searchers found the door locked. This was forced, and the body of Mr. Brady was found hanging by a fire escape rope attached to the hinge of a closet door. He had apparently stood on a chair and stepped off after adjusting the noose.

It was about 3 o'clock when the body was discovered. Mr. Brady had, in Medical Examiner Guining's opinion, been dead three or four hours.

For Friday and Saturday

The enthusiastic response to my announcement in last Thursday's Citizen dumfounded me. I expected business—big business—because the extraordinary values and prices demanded nothing less, and to say that my expectations were realized doesn't do justice. I am overwhelmed. If you don't think I sell lower—if you don't think they are the biggest bargains you ever saw for the money, take samples first of what I offer and see what like goods will cost you in any store in Lowell. You need not order—simply come in and get samples. When you are satisfied that I am lower by $5 or $10, come back and leave your order and measure.

POLL OF DELEGATES

To Democratic State Convention Will be Completed by Monday

Democratic Nominators Will Not
Act on the Gubernatorial Nomination Before That Time—May Choose Man for Lieut. Governor if Decision is Against Loring

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—There will be no more meetings of the democratic nominating committee of four until Monday forenoon unless the state ballot law commission should decide today that the committee's nomination of Clifton R. Loring for lieutenant governor was illegal.

Chairman Macleod has asked the members to hold themselves in readiness to meet in case the decision of the ballot law commission is against the committee.

In this event it would be necessary for the committee to agree on a candidate and secure nomination papers for and is nursing his wounds at his home in Adams.

Will Meet Monday Morning

The committee held two brief informal meetings yesterday, one in the forenoon and one at 2 p. m. but as Macleod and Maynard took the ground that they would not vote to fill the fifth place until after they knew what the result of the special delivery letter canvass of the delegates is, it was agreed to adjourn to Monday at 10 a. m.

Both sides appear to be resting on their oars, but it is known that the Foss men are all over the state and working like beavers in an effort to flood the committee of four with Foss preferences.

The Foss men have sent word by letter, telephone, telegraph and in person to their supporters to be sure to send in their ballots for their candidate.

Yesterday Eugene N. Foss declared that he was the logical candidate for governor and that he would have been nominated on the third ballot but for a factional disagreement.

"I am not seeking to be governor of Massachusetts," said he, "but I do stand for a principle and would like an expression of opinion from the voters of Massachusetts and their full support of that principle. I want all tariff barriers between the United States and her Canadian neighbor abolished; in other words, I want free trade between the United States and Canada."

"This means far more to Massachusetts, New England and the United States in a business way than anything else now under discussion. We can force ahead as never before with free trade relations over our northern border."

"I do not care to go back to Washington. I have had my say there, and the principles for which I stand can be more effectively battled for from the state house in Massachusetts at the present time than from any other point."

"I do not want the governorship for the honor involved, but want it to endorse the principles upon which I stand."

"I am the logical candidate of the Massachusetts democracy. I should have been nominated on the third ballot, but a factional disagreement forced an adjournment of the convention before the third ballot could be had."

Hayes Wants Letters Held

Yesterday the Hamlin men learned that the special delivery canvass letters to the delegates to the Faneuil hall convention all bore a number on the flap of the envelope and immediately charged that the state committee had "keyed" the delegates, that is, each delegate is numbered and the number on the flap of the return envelope corresponds with the number beside his name on the list of delegates in the possession of Chairman Macleod of the state committee.

In this way, the Hamlin men said, it would be an easy matter for the state committee officials to keep track of those who had not replied by checking off the number on the list at headquarters as the return envelopes came into the state committee rooms addressed to William P. Hayes, secretary of the nominating committee.

The fairly Foss men could be traced and traced up.

Late in the afternoon yesterday Secretary Hayes called on Chairman Macleod and had a talk with him about the poll of the delegates now in progress.

As a result of their conference it was agreed that the best way would be to have all the letters addressed to Hayes as secretary of the nominating committee held up at the Boston postoffice until Monday at 10 a. m., when Mr. Hayes and Executive Sec. Loring of the state committee will call for the replies.

Mr. Hayes and Mr. Loring together called on Postmaster Mansfield yesterday afternoon and made the request on his part that he hold such mail as indicated. The postmaster said he would and gave the necessary instructions to his subordinates.

Mr. Hayes proposes to open these letters in the presence of the political reporters Monday morning.

Mr. Mansfield has until next Thursday at 5 p. m. to withdraw, and then the committee has until the following Monday to substitute a name for his for governor.

Nomination papers for lieutenant governor will have to be filed by next Monday at 5 p. m. in the event of the ballot law commission rendering an adverse opinion on Loring's nomination.

Urged to Vote Early

Following is the letter sent to the delegates yesterday by Chairman Macleod of the state committee relative to the preference for governor:

"Boston, Oct. 12, 1910.
"Dear Sir: At the democratic state convention held on Thursday, Oct. 6, Frederick W. Mansfield was nominated for governor upon the understanding that he would withdraw as a candidate when a committee chosen by the convention and consisting of Frederick J. Macleod of Cambridge, Joseph A. Maynard of Boston, William P. Hayes of Springfield and Robert J. Crowley of Lowell, such committee to have the right at its discretion, to select a fifth member of the committee, should select the democratic candidate for governor to fill the vacancy to be occasioned by such withdrawal.

"This committee of four has held several meetings, but has been deadlocked upon the choice of a candidate for governor, two members favoring Eugene N. Foss and the other two members favoring Charles S. Hamlin. The committee has also been unable to agree upon the selection of a fifth member of the committee.

"In order to deal with this emergency a meeting of the democratic state committee was duly called and held today, and the following vote was passed:

"Voted, that a special delivery letter be mailed to every regularly elected delegate to the recent state convention, with a special delivery return envelope enclosed, addressed to William

P. Hayes, secretary committee of four having power to select a candidate for governor, requesting them to reply immediately, stating their preference for the most available candidate for governor at this time, for the information and guidance of the special committee above named.

"We desire to secure an expression of opinion if possible from every duly elected delegate to the state convention so that the nomination of the candidate, when made, will represent the choice of the delegates themselves to the state convention.

"As the committee is obliged by law to file this substitute nomination within two or three days, we urge you to send in your reply at once, so that it may be received before final action is taken by the committee. Yours very truly,

"Frederick J. Macleod, Chairman.
"Thomas J. Collins, Secretary."

MISSION WORK

Described at Meeting in Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—The centennial celebration of the founding of the board of commissioners for foreign missions virtually ended today when a dozen or more missionaries detailed the board's achievements in foreign fields, when new missionaries were presented to the audience, and when farewell addresses were made. On Sunday the annual sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. William D. Mackenzie of Hartford, Conn., in the Old South church, where there will also be a special communion service. President Capen of the board presided at today's closing session, and the missionaries were presented by the veteran foreign secretary, Rev. Dr. Jas. L. Barton. WORTH A MOUNTAIN OF GOLD

During Change of Life, Says Mrs. Chas. Barclay

Graniteville, Vt.—“I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth a mountain of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter.”—Mrs. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for women's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as inflammation, ulceration, local weaknesses, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

WILL SEEK FUND WIFE GAVE BLOOD

To Fight the Hog In Effort to Save Her Husband's Life

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The department of agriculture is arranging to bring to the attention of the various legislatures in those states where hogs are raised, the necessity of providing funds for a hog cholera serum, the success of which has been thoroughly demonstrated by the bureau of animal industry.

It is the belief of the department of agriculture that a serum has at last been found which, when properly applied, will save millions of dollars annually to the farmers of the country. No money is provided by the government for the distribution of this serum and unless the states, through their departments of agriculture, arrange to manufacture the antitoxin, it is feared its benefits will be lost.

A successful demonstration of the value of the serum has just been concluded at Omaha. Its efficiency had been proved many times before, but in order that it might be brought more strikingly to the attention of the westerners a practical demonstration was arranged at the Union Stock Yards at Omaha.

In its report on this demonstration the department says: "The experiment was witnessed by representatives of the Nebraska agricultural station and by officials of the Nebraska Swine Breeders' Association, and it convinced them that the serum was entirely effective."

Two attempts were made to save the policeman. The first was when an opening was made near Mrs. Fulcher's right ankle and in the policeman's leg. The patient failed to rally as the surgeons had expected, and on Tuesday morning the transfusion operation was repeated. It failed to bring strength to the giant policeman.

Fulcher was born in New York 32 years ago and became a member of the police department in 1907. At his physical examination he surprised the department surgeons by his magnificent physique. He was 6 feet 4 inches in height and was perfectly developed. Before he received a mark of 100 on the physical test another examination was made by several well known physicians.

Three weeks ago Fulcher asked for leave of absence as he was suffering from intestinal trouble.

TOBACCO CROP

May be Ruined by the Storm

HAVANA, Oct. 14.—The full force of the storm, the approach of which was heralded yesterday, struck this city at one o'clock this morning. The gale brought with it a deluge of rain, extinguishing the street lamps. At eight o'clock this morning the wind was blowing strongly from the southeast and rain fell. Up to the half hour midnight damage had been reported. It is feared that the tobacco crop in Pinar del Rio will be ruined.

CENTRE OF STORM

KEY WEST, Fla., Oct. 14.—The heavy wind and rain storm which came from Havana swept this city this morning, the wind coming from the southeast.

According to the weather forecast for the tropical storm is centered in the Yucatan channel and still moving in a westerly direction. The steamer Miami, which sailed from Knights Key yesterday afternoon during this storm, arrived here at 10 o'clock last night after a terrible trip.

WILL HAVE CONNECTING LINK

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—The steamers Harvard and Yale, which it was announced some time ago were to be taken off the Boston-New York run and sent to the Pacific coast, will be operated, according to the Chronicle, between Los Angeles and San Francisco by a combination of Inter-Cal, in which the Western Pacific Railroad Co. is dominant.

This will furnish the Western Pacific with a connecting link to southern California.

FERRER MEETINGS

MADRID, Oct. 14.—Largely attended meetings in memory of Francisco Ferrer, the alleged revolutionist, who was shot by the government on October 13, 1909, were held in this city yesterday and addresses made by republican and socialist deputies. The proceedings passed off quietly.

DAMAGE CLAIMS

Brought Against the City by Various Petitioners

The committee on claims met last night and heard many claims for damages. There were so many claims that the committee was unable to hear them all and at 11:10 the committee adjourned to meet tonight when the remaining claims will be heard.

Mrs. John M. Ahern asked damages for the death of Kathleen C., her daughter, and John M., her husband.

Her daughter was killed in an accident on the South common July 1, 1910, by the falling of a limb of a tree, and her husband's death followed closely upon the tragic result of the accident. She believed that her husband died in consequence of the accident.

Michael Elliott asked damages as the result of the South common accident in which his son was injured.

Blanche Bosseline, another victim of the South common accident, said she had suffered a fractured face, and her children, Lillian and Olive, also had been injured.

Rosie Huxson, Robert Kelly and Samuel and Nicholas Moore were other claimants in consequence of the South common accident.

Among the cases listed were:

Wendrop W. Hayward, Dec. 28, 1909, fall.

Annie Dulan, Dec. 16, 1907, fall.

John Payne, April 18, 1910, injury to horse.

Elizabeth Richette, Jan. 31, 1910, fall.

Henry S. Sullivan, Aug. 9, 1910, fall.

Bernard A. Connor, Dec. 20, 1906, struck by double runner.

John Mahoney, June 7, 1909, foot caught in timber.

Peter Charleton, Oct. 23 and 24, 1909, alleged defective grade.

Mary O'Hearn, Jan. 6, 1910, fall.

Bridget Corrigan, Oct. 12, 1909, fall.

Christopher Green, Dec. 23, 1909, fall.

LOST MONEY

QUICKLY RETURNED THROUGH SUN CLASSIFIED "AD."

Does it pay to advertise in the classified columns of The Sun? That it does can be vouched for by Mrs. Maria Cummings of 221 Adams street, who a few days ago lost her pocketbook containing a large sum of money and several other articles of value. Upon missing the purse, she sent her little advertisement to this office to insert a "lost" advertisement. On the day following the first appearance of the advertisement, Mrs. James Fitzpatrick, residing at 333 Bridge street, called at this office and on getting a description of the lost pocketbook, the amount of money and the various articles it contained, he handed over the pocketbook to be returned to Mrs. Cummings.

Needless to state, Mrs. Cummings, who could ill afford to lose the large amount of money, was quite overjoyed at her good fortune, in having the pocketbook recovered within such a short time, and she was loud in her praise of the value of The Sun's classified columns. This is but one of many instances that occur daily to show the value of the Sun advertisements.

MRS. STEVENSON

Re-elected President of the W. C. T. U.

ATTLEBORO, Oct. 14.—Yesterday was the last one in the state convention of the W. C. T. U.

At 8:45 a prayer meeting was held by Mrs. H. T. Todd, and at 9:15 a business meeting was called to order. Mrs. E. J. Hearn delivered an address on "Work Among the Soldiers and Sailors," and Mrs. Emma H. Howland one on "Penal and Reformatory." Mrs. Harriette Walker spoke on evangelistic and alms house work, Mrs. Ella A. Mason on parliamentary usage, Mrs. Ada D. Friese on the medal contest work, and Mrs. Anna E. Damon on the school savings bank.

The afternoon addresses pertained to the question of temperance and narcotics.

Mrs. Stevenson, state president, called the afternoon session to order. Mrs. J. O. Henson of Boston offered prayer and Mrs. L. L. Foster of Boston was in charge of the devotional service.

Then followed reports.

Last evening's program included a demonstration by the L. T. L. Mrs. Helen G. Rice presiding, addresses on the Willard settlement work by Miss Caroline M. Caswell, Miss Nellie F. Hill and Mrs. Myra L. Higgins; "How We Graduated" by a Y. Branch into the W. C. T. U. Miss Amy Solomon of Attleboro and Miss Eleanor Jones of North Attleboro.

At the business session officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Katherine Lane Stevenson of Boston pres., Mrs. Harriette Walker of Boston vice president, Mrs. Jeanette Hill Knox, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Helen Rice of Roxbury, recording secretary; Mrs. Isabelle A. Morse of Boston, treasurer; Mrs. Helen Rice, secretary of L. T. L.; Miss Mary F. Anderson, secretary of Y. branch; Mrs. E. Florence Soule of Attleboro, secretary.

Don't Be Bald

One of Our Readers Tells How She Obtained a Marvelous Growth of New Hair by the Use of a Simple Home Remedy. After Hair Specialists and Tonics Had All Failed.

I had what most people would call a beautiful head of golden hair. It was not only thick, but it was long and wavy. I considered it my chief attraction. Suddenly it began to come out very rapidly, and at times I had intense itching of the scalp. Physicians and hair specialists said my case was one of dandruff, but I tried microbicides, etc., but nothing that they gave me did the slightest good. The contrary, my hair seemed to come out even faster, and I was now fearful that I should become entirely bald. In my despair a friend told me of Ecuador herb which he said would positively grow hair on any head where the hair roots were not entirely gone, and he said I must use it of the country where it grew. I was famous for their beautiful long hair, and I immediately began its use. I used three applications. It entirely stopped the intense itching of my scalp and in a very short time I noticed an abundance of new hair coming in. In less than a month my hair was longer, thicker and more beautiful than ever. All due to this marvelous hair-restoring herb.

A lady to whom I gave the formula used it on her daughter, and she said it made her hair grow five inches in less than a month. Doctors told me that I was wrong, but I actually grew more hair than I had before. I think the public ought to have it. At first I thought I would keep it a secret and tell the secret, but when I think how I suffered and how badly I needed it, and how hundreds of others must need it, the same as I did, I feel I ought to give it to the world. Therefore I am publishing this paper to publish the formula, which is as follows: Bay Rum, six ounces; Lavender de Compose, two ounces; Menthol Crystals, if druggist has, like it perfumed, add a few drops of the perfume, which mixes perfectly with the other ingredients. This, however, is not necessary.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the enclosed in the Lavender de Compose package. One of them entitles you to a handsome free booklet on how to grow your hair. You also are entitled to receive free advice of an expert on the hair by simply writing to the address you will find enclosed in the package.

Ask your druggist for an eight ounce bottle containing six ounces of Bay Rum, then put in the Menthol Crystals and the Perfume. Add one-half of the bottle of Lavender de Compose. Let it stand six to eight hours and use the remainder of the Lavender de Compose. As a two-ounce bottle, use this preparation contains the flavor of the Ecuador herb mentioned above, and it does its strength if used and morning and rub well into the scalp. If properly used it will produce most marvelous results. Be careful not to get it on the face, and next of the body where you do not want to produce hair.

Malthoid Roofing

The dependability of Malthoid Roofing has been proven by special tests covering a period of many years.

Made in the largest factory in the world—it is absolutely right in every detail.

It resists fire— is acid proof— water and weather proof— Keeps heat in the building in winter.

Keeps it out in summer. Malthoid will last as long as the building it covers.

It is inexpensive easy to lay and your roof troubles are over when Malthoid is laid.

Browns are coming—and going. We've been selling brown mixture suits freely. That's particularly why we welcomed one of our early Stein-Bloch purchases that has just come in. It's lot 9796—a double and twist cassimere that will wear like iron—in a rich shade of brown mixed with white—the pattern, a broken check that is clever for a young fellow and proper for a man of any age.

The model is the Stein-Bloch standard—a conservative, high class selection. The coat is 32 inches long, slightly shaped, with graceful collar and lapels. The vest buttons high, just showing above the coat lapel, and has no collar. The trousers have unfinished bottoms, to be finished with permanent cuffs or with hem to any length needed. Sizes for regular, tall and stout men, up to 46 breast measure.

It's great value in high grade clothing—even for Stein Bloch—at reached as much as a half million pounds prior to 1909, when the total was 2 1/2 million pounds, against 4 1/2 million in 1910. From India the cotton imports had never reached as much as a half million pounds prior to 1907 and in 1910 for the first time exceeded one million pounds, having been in that year 5 1/2 million pounds, against 839,300 pounds in 1909. From Peru the imports in considerable quantities extend over a much longer term of years, having per annum in the decade, 1892-1901, advancing to 4 million in 1907 and 6 1/2 million in 1910. From Mexico the quantity imported has greatly fluctuated, from 11 million pounds in 1907 to 122,256 pounds in 1910, this marked reduction being probably due, in part at least, to the development of the cotton-manufacturing industry in that country.

Meantime with the steady growth in imports of cotton—those of 1910 having been, with three exceptions, 1903, 1907 and 1909 the largest on record—the quantity of American cotton consumed in our markets is rapidly increasing, having grown from 1,000,000 bales in 1870 to a little less than 2,000,000 bales in 1909, and over 3,000,000 bales in 1908, and 1909, while the share which Southern mills take of this total has increased from less than 10 per cent. in 1870 to practically 50 per cent. in 1909, and figures published by the bureau of statistics indicate that the amount of cotton consumed by southern mills in the cotton year 1910 actually exceeded that consumed by northern mills.

GRAND FALL OPENING

In Our New Quarters, 209-211 Middlesex Street

Saturday, October 15th

HAVING outgrown our old store, we desire to inform the public that we have opened a New Store under a long term lease, at 209-211 Middlesex street, where we will show a complete line of CLOTHING, HATS AND SHOES, FOR MEN, WOMEN, BOYS AND GIRLS, to be sold on our popular plan of easy weekly payments. This store is one of a chain of 46 stores. The tremendous purchasing power of such a large number of stores enables us to buy our goods at absolutely the lowest possible prices. This also enables us to give our customers a lower price than those buying for one or a few stores could attempt to do. Our clothing is made in clean workshops, by well paid tailors. Our name has always represented reliable goods, and, as in the past, we mean to have it so in the future. After 40 years of solid business experience, we stand FIRST in quality and variety, in liberal dealings, in value given to buyers, in reliable statements. Our stores are the chosen shopping places of people in all walks of life, and we make a special study of the wants of all. We are in touch at all times with the clothing requirements of men, women and children. Our reach, ever growing wider, gives us greater command of the markets, and with our facilities and complete equipments we can serve you properly. We trust everybody. Credit with us is free to all. The weekly payments are easy, and before you know it your clothing is paid for and you have never missed the money. Try it and save money. All unsatisfactory purchases will be cheerfully exchanged. There are no disagreeable features connected with opening an account at this store, and that this is so, we have but to point to our great success in other cities.

Men's Suits

The new Fall Suits are ready. Handsome patterns in Gray, Olive, Green, Blue and Black. We would be pleased to have you call and examine these garments before you make your fall purchases. We can take care of your wants in everything to be paid for on easy weekly payments. Suits $7.50 to $30

Youths' Suits

In nobby, up-to-date styles. In Youths' Suits $5 to $18 we are leaders of fashion; others follow....

Ladies' Suits

In our Ladies' Department will be found an exceptionally fine line of Ladies' and Misses' Suits for Fall. They are beautifully tailored—finished with mannish pockets and bone buttons in self-color. Coats 42 to 48 inches long. Skirts gored and pleated in the latest fashionable Fall shades... $10 to $40

CAUGHT IN CHICAGO

Man Will Be Brought Back to This City

Ernest Capasso, alias Frank Kelly, one of the four pickpockets who tried to work passengers on the trains at the Middlesex street station several weeks ago and who was later arrested in Westford street by Inspector Martin Maher of the local police department and sentenced to one year in the house of correction at Cambridge and was declared defaulted at the session of the superior court yesterday was arrested in Chicago, Ill., and is now being held by the Lowell police.

The capture of Capasso reflects great credit upon the methods used by the local police and Supt. Welch's efforts to bring Capasso to bay are worthy of appreciation.

It will be remembered that the four men in question tried to work passengers on various trains which came through this city and Inspector Martin Maher upon learning of their work watched them and after he saw that their purpose was not honest asked work employees of the Boston & Maine railroad to assist him in the arrest of the quartet. He and the two volunteers followed the four into Westford street and placed them under arrest.

They were brought into court on complaints charging them with being vagrants, were found guilty by Judge Bradley and each sentenced to a year in the house of correction of Cambridge.

Ball was secured and when three of them went before the superior court the sentence of the local court was confirmed. Capasso, being out on $800 bonds, failed to put in an appearance and he was declared defaulted.

Supt. Welch was determined to capture Capasso and accordingly sent a description of the man to various cities throughout the United States, with the result that this afternoon the following telegram was received in this city:

"Chicago, Oct. 13, 1910.

"Chief of Police, Lowell, Mass.
"Ernest Capasso, alias Frank Kelly, in custody. Wire me the charge, date of complaint to enable me to secure fugitive warrant. Will apply for writ. Prepare papers. Answer."
"(Signed) S. B. Wood,
"Capt. Detective Bureau,
"Chicago Police Dept."

Supt. Welch immediately wired the Chicago authorities the nature of the case for which Capasso is wanted and asked that the prisoner be held under a heavy bail for a week or ten days in order that the necessary papers may be made out and an officer sent to Chicago.

In the event of the Chicago police being able to hold Capasso, Inspector Byrne of the state police and probably a local officer will be sent to the Windy City in order to bring the fugitive back to this state.

the democrats of the northern district. No more will the dulcet tones, or the infallible rulings of William J. McCluskey be heard as chairman of the numerous minor conventions, for by the grace of the state committee backed up by a decision of the equity court, the scepter passes from his hands into those of the stranger. The fact is to be regretted, for Mr. McCluskey as a presiding officer was to the manner born. He had parliamentary law at his tongue's end and diplomacy was his long suit.

Years ago the democratic conventions were held in a room over a fire house in Cambridge and the six or seven faithful who attended each convention annually nominated their candidates, mostly republican and elected a district committee which was made up exclusively of residents of the lower end of the county. Lowell wasn't on the map in county politics for years, until one day a happy thought struck Mr. McCluskey and backed by several staunch Lowell democrats all armed with credentials he descended unannounced upon the little room over the fire house where some six or seven had assembled to run things. William and his Lowell cohorts were in the majority and they soon had the conventions under their control. Then they proceeded to elect district committees made up of men from this end of the woods with the result that ever since all county democratic conventions have been held in this city and while like Cambridge there were only a baker's dozen at some of them all have been democrats from Lowell or the vicinity. And now the tables have been turned and unless a great number of Lowell delegates go down, the control of affairs will pass for this end. Even if the Lowell democrats presented a full delegation they would be outnumbered on a pinch by the men of the lower end and hence these tears.

The County Convention

The most regrettable part of the county's decision relative to the recent conventions is the fact that it has declared the county convention invalid though the fight was over the nominations made in the district attorney convention rather than in the county convention.

In the district attorney convention John J. Higgins, a republican, and Sheriff John R. Fairbairne, also a republican, were nominated by the democrats and that is what the fight is over.

The county convention nominated James T. O'Hearn of Lowell and Geo. R. Wilkins of Carlisle, two well known democrats in good standing, for county commissioner and every democrat in northern Middlesex would like to see these two nominations stand while sentiment is divided on the other nominations. But unfortunately both conventions were called alike and the ruling that invalidated one also put the other out of commission. It is now understood that the democrats of the Southern end of the county will ignore the claims of Messrs. O'Hearn and Wilkins and will nominate two men from that part of the world.

BEAUTIFUL GIFTS

WERE PRESENTED TO MISS M. E. ELLIOTT

A most enjoyable and pleasant event occurred Wednesday evening at the home of Miss M. E. Elliott, the well known music teacher, 14 Fisher street, when a number of her friends assembled at her home and gave her a genuine surprise.

Miss Elliott was presented a purse of gold and a beautiful punch bowl. The presentation address was made by Mr. C. A. Cameron and Miss Elliott expressed her thanks to the donors and assured them that she would cherish the gifts as true expressions of the friendship which her friends held for her. A fine musical program was carried out and Miss Elliott later entertained all her guests at luncheon.

DIV. 8, A. O. H.

The military company connected with Div. 8, A. O. H. held a drill in O. H. hall Wednesday evening and 60 of the 55 enrolled members were present. The drill was under the direction of Capt. Fitzgerald and was most satisfactory. In fact the captain said that the men went through the maneuvers like veterans and expressed his pleasure at the fine showing they made. Pending the selection of a commander, Capt. Fitzgerald will have charge of the drills of the company.

FUNERALS

SENUTA—The funeral of Alexandra Senuta took place yesterday at 2 o'clock from the home of his mother, Mrs. Rozaly Senuta, 18 Howe street, and proceeded to St. Patrick's cemetery, where the remains were laid at rest in the family lot under the direction of Undertaker John A. Finnegan.

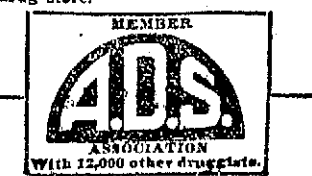

4DS PEROXIDE CREAM

Is the best cream made for the skin. If you have a red, rough, blotched, sore, unsightly skin, try this great product of the American Drugists Syndicate.

You can use it for massaging wrinkles and for a fallow complexion, as it whitens and beautifies, is safe, harmless and does not grow hair.

No woman who values her appearance and who wants a smooth clear skin should let a day go by without trying it for the face, neck, arms and hands.

Get it for 25c. at any A. D. S. drug store.

THIS FELLOW'S WORK BEHIND BAT BEAT DETROIT IN 1908

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—The work of Johnny Kling behind the bat in the coming world's series with Philadelphia will be more closely watched than any other player on the Chicago team. Although it must be admitted that Kling is not the Kling of old and his pegging to bases is not as accurate as in the days of yore, still his brain is just as active as ever. It was Kling's gray matter that outguessed the Detroit batters in the world's series in 1908 and stood them on their heads and enabled the Cubs to win out. Last season Kling did not play, and the long layoff affected his playing to some extent. In case Kling is injured Chance can call on Jimmy Archer, his second string catcher. The latter is considered to be one of the best backstops in the game. He is the only catcher in the game who uses the squat throw.

MAY BE TROUBLE

Outbreak is Threatened in Honduras

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Oct. 14.—President Davila is much incensed over the action of Gen. Jose Maria Valladares, commandant of Amapala, on the island of Tigres, the only port of entry for the Pacific side of Honduras. Valladares took the job without appointment after the downfall of the Bonilla administration in 1907. Davila, the new president, had appointed another man, but Valladares got there first. He took command of the local garrison and sent the Davila appointee back home and told him to stay away or get hurt. Valladares is 40 years old.

MIGUEL R. DAVILA

He hates foreigners, but especially Americans and British. His treatment of the officers of steamers has been notoriously contemptuous and ugly, as has his attitude toward all Americans and British residents on the island. Any one of them making an ordinary police court complaint against a native was at once arrested and fined as much as the traffic would bear. Proquent complaints were made to the Honduran capital, but President Davila said that he was helpless, having no force on the west coast except that under the command of Valladares. Recently, however, after Davila had asked Valladares to pay special courtesy to Minister McCreery, who was going up to Tegucigalpa by the Pacific route, Valladares sent back word that he was "too much of a patriot to pay honor to any of Tuff's dogs." Mr. McCreery was insulted, mobbed and hustled at Amapala. The ordering of the United States gunboat Princeton, and a British cruiser to the island of Amapala followed this outburst of spite and brutal rage on the part of Valladares, and further trouble is feared.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Centralville Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., was held last night at Odd Fellows hall in Bridge street. There was a large attendance and considerable routine business was transacted.

At the conclusion of the business meeting the following program was carried out: Solo, Leona Small; reading, Lillian Dodge Haskell; solo, Mrs. F. Roberts.

Mrs. Lena Reid Fleming was the accompanist.

All responded to encores and were well applauded. Past Grand Henry C. Fuller in an interesting speech alluded to the anniversary and spoke of the institution and class initiation held on Oct. 19, 1895.

Royal Arcanum

Highland council, R. A., held a well attended regular meeting last night, and transacted a large amount of routine business. There were just sixty members present, with Regent Dana in the chair.

Supreme Deputy Grand Regent A. J. Killings paid an official visit to the council. One candidate was initiated. There were remarks by S. D. G. R. Killings and Past Grand Regent A. W. David. Refreshments were served and whilst enjoyed at the conclusion of the business meeting.

THE REPUBLICANS

TO ORGANIZE CLUBS IN EVERY CITY IN THE STATE

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—Republican clubs will be organized in all the cities of the state where there are not now organizations, and party enthusiasm will be aroused to sweep the republican ticket into office by a large majority at the next elections, according to plans laid down last yesterday at a meeting of the Massachusetts League of Republican clubs held at the republican state headquarters. Over 100 members were present and the representatives were urged to get out and work. Addresses being made by National President John Hays Hammond, John N. Cole of Andover, Chairman Hatfield of the state committee, Judge Robert T. Harris of Boston, Congressman Greene of Fall River and others.

Official Scorer Parish Makes Statement

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—E. V. Parish, who officially scored Sunday's double-header between the St. Louis and Cleveland American league teams last night made the following statement about the Lajoie case:

"The first game, in which I gave Lajoie four hits for as many attempts, was without incident, save that there was a continual procession to the press box for information regarding the scoring which was given. Sometimes the scoring pleased the fans, at other times it did not. The game was scored as I saw it, and had I to score it again I would credit Lajoie with four hits for his efforts.

"In the second game, Lajoie bunted his first time up. It was a clean hit. His second time up, which was in the third inning, he bunted again. Corridon, third baseman of the St. Louis team, fumbled the ball and Lajoie was safe at first. A runner was on first with none out. He advanced to second. In my opinion, Corridon could have gotten Lajoie at first easily by clean handling of the ball. There was but one way to score the play, a sacrifice hit, and an error was given Corridon.

"As to the scoring of the hits, I have this to say: In my opinion there is no question of their legitimacy. They were clean scoring hits and had they been scored otherwise it would have been an injustice to Lajoie."

Parish claims that during the second game a messenger boy handed him the following unsigned note:

"Mr. Parish: If you can see where Lajoie gets a B. H. instead of a sacrifice, I will give you an order for a $40 suit of clothes—sure. Answer by boy. In behalf of the fans I ask it of you."

In a telegram I ask it of you. Lajoie admits he telephoned to the home of Official Scorer Parish to see if he had received credit for nine hits. Lajoie's message said that Umpire Evans and all the Cleveland players thought that he ought to have been credited with nine instead of eight hits. According to Parish, after the man at the other end of the telephone had said he was Lajoie and found out that he had been credited with eight hits, the man asked if there was any chance for Parish to see nine hits. The answer was "no." After Parish refused an invitation to go to a hotel, the conversation was cut off.

STREET RAILWAY MEN'S BALL

Two well attended meetings of the local street railway men were held Wednesday night. The day men were present at one of the sessions while the night men attended the other. The principal event of the meeting was the election of a floor director for the coming ball which is to be held in November. Edward J. Donnelly was declared the winner.

Next Thursday night's meeting will be featured by a smoke talk at which Mr. Smythe of the Wakefield division, a member of the conference wage committee, will speak. A musical and literary program will also be given and refreshments will be served.

U. S. EMPLOYEES

Destroying Brown-Tail Moth Nests

Men in the employ of the United States government are seeking out and destroying gypsy and brown-tail moth nests in Lowell. The boys in khaki uniform are working in the Oaklands in the vicinity of the Shedd park. Their mission is to trim trees, cut brush and put burlap and poison on the trees. They sometimes take nests in private property and no charge is made.

TO RAISE WRECK

Work on the Battleship
Maine to Begin

BEVERLY, Oct. 14.—President Taft yesterday finally approved plans for raising the wreck of the battleship Maine from Havana harbor, which called for the completion of the work on or before the 13th anniversary of the destruction of the war vessel, February 15th next.

The work is to be done according to plans made by army engineers and to be under direction of an engineer officer.

President Taft believes that the paramount question in the raising of the Maine is the determining for all time of the cause of the explosion, and whether the source of destruction was from the outside or inside the vessel. For this reason he desires that the work shall remain in the hands of the army engineers and not let out the contract.

By direction of the president, Spain has been invited to send a representative to Havana to be present during the work of exposing and removing the wreck.

The disposition of the old bulk remains to be settled. The army engineers believe that it will be possible to float the after two-thirds of the vessel. The forward third, where the explosion wrought the greatest damage and killed the greatest number of the crew while they were asleep in their quarters is believed to be too far gone even to be taken out as a whole, and the wreckage will be removed piecemeal. If congress approves the recommendation of the engineers in charge, the wreck will be taken out to sea and given a ceremonial burial in deep water, there to remain until the end of time.

SEC'Y BALLINGER

Was Injured in Collision of Trains

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 14.—Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior, was one of eleven passengers injured last night by a collision of two passenger trains in the outskirts of Cincinnati on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railroad. Secretary Ballinger's injuries consisted of a severe shaking and a slightly bruised arm. Of the injured, none will die. Secretary Ballinger was returning to Washington from Oklahoma where he attended the congress of Indians.

WOMAN RESCUED

She Was Found Burning on the Floor

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—Breaking through a heavy door, Patrolman Timothy Carroll of the East Dedham street station ran into the house at 770 Shawmut avenue last night and found Lilla Chalmers, 62 years of age, on the floor of the parlor with her clothing aflame and with the floor of the house afire. Carroll first extinguished the fire on her clothing by using a heavy rug, and then beat out that consuming the wooden floor and a chair in the room. Miss Chalmers is at the city hospital, expected to die at any moment. The accident occurred at 8.45. Miss Chalmers is lame, and it is supposed that her enfeebled condition made it difficult for her to get about. As she stepped from her bed she fell against a small parlor stove. The blazing hot coals fell out of the door and instantly her clothing and the floor were afire.

OLDEST RESIDENT

MRS. HELENE DUNN, AGED 97, IS DEAD

Mrs. Helene Bland Dunn, probably Lowell's oldest resident, died yesterday at her home, 34 Gershon avenue, aged 97 years.

Madame Dunn was born in February, 1814, on the banks of Lake Muskogee, Que. Her parents had just come to a new parish founded there, and she was born the year in which the parish was founded. She lived her long life there throughout, leaving it only to come to her children and to live here 10 years ago. At 19 she married Hector Dunn, who has now been dead 20 years.

Until the last, Mrs. Dunn preserved a keen ear and an excellent sight, also an unimpaired mind, though in body she had been very feeble for several months. The end came peacefully, old age, and not illness, having caused the long-active mind, heart and body to give out at last.

Mrs. Dunn left one son, George, of Lowell; two daughters, Mrs. Louise Langlois of Montpelier, Wisconsin, and Mrs. Hubert Marcoux of Montpelier, Vermont. She was also the mother of 25 grandchildren, among these being Mrs. Joseph E. Lambert, with whom she made her home; and 38 great-grandchildren.

IN VAUDEVILLE

TWO LOWELL YOUNG MEN HAVE NOVEL SKETCH

Henri Lavigne, son of Emile C. Lavigne, the violinist, and himself a young violinist, is going upon the vaudeville stage with Charles Adelard Gregoire, in a sketch known as "The Parisian Novelists." The act represents the study of a Paris artist in the Latin Quarter, and while Mr. Lavigne plays, Mr. Gregoire will make lightening sketches illustrating the act. The two young men will probably tour the southern circuit during the coming winter. Mr. Gregoire was formerly associated with Mr. Edwin Bron in the production of the sketch.

LADIES' SOCIAL CLUB

The Ladies' Afternoon Social club took a trolley trip to Reading on Wednesday. The trip was made during the early part of the morning, and the members returned in the evening. Mrs. Henry Brooks had general charge of the affair.

A basket dinner was served after which a musical was given. Those present were: Mrs. E. H. Fuller, Mrs. J. W. Bowen, Mrs. L. W. Grindell, Mrs. A. Worth, Mrs. William Mitchell and Mrs. A. E. Brooks, and Misses Sadie Gillen, Mina E. Brooks and Josie Donohue.

DRAPER AND LODGE

Are to be Opposed by Organized Labor

WORCESTER, Oct. 14.—The position of organized labor to Gov. Eben S. Draper was reiterated by the Massachusetts state branch American Federation of Labor, at its closing session here yesterday. The federation voted to call upon all union men and friends of labor to work for the defeat of Draper at the polls this fall, as well as for the defeat of candidates for the senate and house, who had pledged themselves or agreed to vote for "the great arch enemy of organized labor, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge." Also for the defeat of Congressman Gillette.

The convention went on record as in favor of equal suffrage, while action in reference to the workmen's compensation bill was left to the discretion of a special state committee.

Disapproval was voted of compulsory military training in the public schools as being contrary to the aims of peace.

It was decided that the state branch would this year introduce the following bills in the legislature: The eight-hour bill, injunction bill, picketing bill, 64 hour bill, nine hours in eleven bill for street car men, initiative and referendum, barker's license law, and a bill to prohibit the handling of liquor by women where liquor is the principal business.

It was voted to hold the next convention in Haverhill and the date was changed by constitution from the second Monday in October to the third Monday in September.

Richard K. Conant of the Massachusetts child labor committee addressed the convention on the cause of child labor reform.

When You Think

Of the pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from pain. It establishes regularity, subdues inflammation, heals ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult us by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. Y. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of wrapping and mailing only, and we will send you a free copy of Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in handsome French cloth binding.

DARTMOUTH BOYS

Were Given a Ducking by Firemen

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 14.—While the flames swept up through the Trachler restaurant in The Tavern last night the Hanover fire department and the Dartmouth football coaching staff and several hundred of the students scrambled for the honor of "holding the nozzle." The firemen turned the hose on the collegians, not discriminating between coaches and students, and as a result half a hundred or more got a ducking.

The fire burned out the restaurant managed by J. B. Trachler, whose loss is $1000. The damage to the building, owned by Dorrance Currier, is a like amount.

ANNUAL SESSION

Of the Massachusetts Charity Conference

The eighth annual session of the Massachusetts state conference of charities will be held in Fitchburg, beginning Wednesday evening, Oct. 26, and continuing through Friday afternoon, October 28. Each session will be devoted to a single topic, in charge of a standing committee of the conference, and with addresses by strong speakers of special fitness. The outline program of the meetings will be:

Wednesday evening session: opening address by Mr. David R. Tilley of Boston, president of the conference, followed by a discussion of the subject of "Recreation," under the chairmanship of Mr. Frank L. Boyden, principal of Deerfield academy.

Thursday morning: Committee on mental diseases, Dr. Owen Copp, executive officer of the state board of insanity, chairman. Papers by Dr. Copp on "Mental Disease in Retrospect and Outlook in Massachusetts," Dr. E. E. Southard of the Harvard Medical School on "The Purposes of the New Psychopathic hospital at Boston," and Mr. Edmund A. Whitman of Cambridge, on "Industrial Activities for the State Dependents."

On Thursday afternoon there will be an excursion to visit the state colony for the insane at Gardner.

Thursday evening: Committee on neglected children. Judge Harvey H. Baker of the Boston juvenile court, chairman. Addresses by Judge Baker, Hon. T. B. Fitzpatrick of Boston, Mr. Elton B. Keith of Brockton, Mr. Nathan C. Upham of Fitchburg and Mr. James E. Fen, superintendent of the state minor wards.

A WIFE'S TRIALS

Her Duty to Home and Children

A generous, beautiful wife! She has come up through the earlier years of womanhood every year, an added charm to her development of mind and body. Look at her a year hence, two years hence, five years hence—The investigations of her sex as wife and mother have through mismanagement, made inroads upon her health. She is becoming nervous. Her step most of the time, her back aches and her disposition suffers. It goes on all around us; ten chances to one that a woman's weakness has declared itself and medical attendance becomes necessary.

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the medicine that will build her up and help nature throw off the troubles that have come.

Dr. Greene's Nervura is a magnificent help for women at every turn in their lives. It prepares them for every womanly change. It fits them for wifehood and sustains them. It prepares them for motherhood, and all the time it not only preserves them physically, but keeps the nerves and disposition in condition to make ideal wives and mothers both.

Take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, for now of all times it is most dangerous to neglect your health, and the system is always made strong and vigorous by this perfect medicine.

Remember the great advantage of having your medicine put up by Dr. Greene, a regular practicing physician, who guarantees his Nervura and will stand behind it at all times. Dr. Greene himself will give free consultation and advice, personally or by mail, at his office, Temple Place, Boston, Mass., to all who call or write.

DIED IN HOSPITAL

Girl Labored to Bring Loved Ones Here

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—After saving her money for 14 years in order to bring her two sisters and a brother from the old country, Mary Canna, a young woman of Fitchburg, sailed away some weeks ago for Ireland. She returned on the Cunarder Saxonia, with the two sisters to join the brother, already here—thus completing the family circle. But tuberculosis developed on the trip and at the moment that her heart's desire was accomplished she died yesterday in the Carney hospital.

It was one of the saddest cases that has come to the attention of immigration inspectors in many weeks.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was 16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

CONFLICTING OPINIONS OF ROOSEVELT.

The city of Springfield is well supplied with newspapers in the Republican and the Union.

The former pays more attention to editorials than to such trifles as the publication of ordinary news. When the editor speaks he affects the presence and profundity of the Delphian oracle and somehow he has succeeded in convincing a great many journals that like the Pythia of old, he is inspired by some mysterious power. He certainly dashes off some very large chunks of wisdom and common sense, although as a prophet he is not regarded as a howling success.

The editor of the Republican, like many other editors, sees in Ex-President Roosevelt a great menace to this nation, while on the other hand the Springfield Union, a first class newspaper, that gives more attention to news than to editorials, is not disposed to share the Republican's alarm at the outlook of Roosevelt realizing his ambition and assuming a dictatorship in this country. It is not usual to find two newspapers published in the same place agreeing upon anything. Accordingly we find the two Springfield papers in cordial disagreement over Col. Roosevelt. It will be interesting to contrast what they say relative to Roosevelt, his policies and his ambitions:

Speaking of Roosevelt the Republican says:

"The republicans who think as Charles H. Young does are not confined to New York state, and they are to be numbered in thousands and not hundreds. They see in the late conduct of Mr. Roosevelt and a certain frenzy of response which comes from the crowd behind him a danger which has seldom threatened us, but one which where it does arise in a republic must transcend all other public matters in importance. As against the menace of Caesarism all other troubles measure up very small and only of brief delay for a day of reckoning. And if Mr. Roosevelt carries New York state next month nothing can apparently stop his onward course to a substantial dictatorship in the nation if he chooses to follow it, and who expects from one so obviously intoxicated with the sense of power among men and the desire for more of it that he will choose otherwise?"

On Roosevelt, considered in a somewhat different aspect, The Springfield Union says:

"An agitator was needed, and Roosevelt proved to be the man for the work. Washington was for his time, Lincoln for his time, and when the times needed a man to deal with a new and vital situation the country had Roosevelt. Reforms are not accomplished by demanding too little. They come about only when more is asked than can immediately be had. If Roosevelt has seemed at times extreme it has been necessary in order to get any concession. Taft is not temperamentally fitted for agitation, any more than Roosevelt is temperamentally fitted for calm, judicial action. It has been the province of one to plow deep the furrows; of the other to do the harrowing. And that Mr. Taft has harrowed well is evidenced by the record of his administration."

Here then we have one very prominent, we might say, distinguished paper assailing Roosevelt as a menace to this country, and another very respectable paper expressing an opinion almost diametrically opposite. Moreover, the Republican is not a straight republican paper, as its name might indicate, but an independent, while the Union is loyally republican. We present these opposite views for the reason that they each represent the view of a very large proportion of the people of this country in regard to Col. Roosevelt.

About one-half the people believe that if he became president once more, he would be a veritable dictator, while the other half believe he is a necessary reformer, the man of the hour, whose policies would rectify the disorders and governmental abuses which affect this country at the present time.

Thus a vast number consider Roosevelt a dangerously ambitious man; an equal number consider him a good and great man, while none denies his eminent ability as a man of letters and a political campaigner. Which of these conflicting views shall prove the more correct remains to be seen.

AN ENCOMIUM FOR SENATOR LODGE

The Andover Townsman is out for Senator Lodge's re-election and in the following piece of sonorous bombast lauds his praises:

"The nation does not possess a man of larger constructive ability, a statesman with a wider horizon, a scholar of greater achievements, an orator of more commanding power than the senior senator from Massachusetts. His personality is no longer bound up in the Commonwealth alone, for he has been given to the nation by Massachusetts for a larger work than that which can be confined within Massachusetts' borders."

This, no doubt, is the utterance of John N. Cole, former speaker of the house. It might be well for The Townsman when next it refers to Senator Lodge's ability as a constructive statesman to mention any important measure of federal or state legislation that was introduced and carried through by Mr. Lodge. While we admit that Senator Lodge is a good talker we hold that as a constructive statesman he has been a conspicuous failure.

Wireless telegraphy, like the navigation of the air, is making rapid strides. It is but a few days since a wireless message was transmitted from Clifden, Ireland, to a new high power station in the Argentine Republic, a distance of 5,600 miles. From this achievement it appears that submarine cables are no longer indispensable to the transmission of intelligence across the Atlantic.

Very few have taken seriously the report that Frederick A. Cook, the fake explorer, is to take the lecture platform to prove that he discovered the North pole. Cook by his conduct has discredited himself forever. He can never retrieve his lost fame.

This is a dangerous time to start brush or forest fires. The police will have to keep close watch upon the boys who are in the habit of going into the woods to start brush fires.

ALL FRANCE SUFFERS AS RESULT OF RAILWAY STRIKE

PARIS, Oct. 14.—This city, which has suffered from so many strikes in recent years, is again like an armed camp. The four most important railroad systems are either completely or partly paralyzed. Troops guard the depots and the tracks. Soldiers are being called out under ancient law as reserves to run the trains. Many of these reserves are among the strikers, but the government insists that they must answer the call or be punished. The government is taking active measures. Orders have been issued for the arrest of strike leaders. Instructions have been given to the troops not to shrink from severity whenever it is required. Measures are being adopted similar to those practiced in time of war. Troops have been mobilized and sent to occupy the principal points on all the railroads. The great railroads of France are the Eastern, the Central, the Northern, the Western, the Paris, Lyons and Mediteranean, the State and the Belt lines. Their total trackage is nearly 25,000 miles, and their employees number about 200,000. No one now attempts to disguise the fact that the situation is grave. Already business in the capital is paralyzed. No suburban trains are running. Railroad communication with the ports of Cherbourg, Havre, Dieppe and Brest has stopped. But what is still more serious is that Paris is completely isolated so far as railroad service is concerned and is in peril of a food famine, for no supplies are coming in. The railroad managers cannot cope with the situation. The highways leading to Paris are black with humanity from early morning to late evening. The congestion at the city gates is frightful. Thousands of workmen trudging to or from work converge there. The demand for cabs and automobiles cannot be met, and prices for their hire have soared.

HAVE MAKES A GREAT FIND IN TOURMALINES

POLAND, Me., Oct. 14.—Another big find has been made at the tourmaline mine of F. L. Havey of Lewiston. A third pocket was uncovered this week from which gems that weighed two pounds five and one-half ounces, or 3500 carats, were taken. A moderate estimate of the value of this find is $30,000.

Since he opened the first pocket five or six weeks ago, Mr. Havey has taken our tourmalines weighing in the aggregate about 12,000 carats. Tourmalines are worth from $5 to $20 a carat and are readily marketable.

At an average of $10, which is considered low, he has taken out $120,000 worth of gems in a few weeks and the end is not in sight.

There are some men, and quite a few young men, who have the feeling that in order to get satisfactory clothing they must have a suit made to measure. Above all others these are the men we want to interest in Rogers-Peet's clothing—the best made in America.

For $20.00 this season we have provided eight patterns of Rogers-Peet's suits in young men's and men's sizes from 32 to 46 breast measure and it is going to be a happy surprise to those who don't know about this best "ready made" to discover how admirably it fits, how splendidly tailored it is, how stylish and attractive the suits appear when on.

There's this about it tho'—there's no guess work when you can try on a suit, see how it fits and if it's becoming before you put good money into it.

We shall be glad of the opportunity to show you these suits and have you try them on—you'll not be importuned to buy. If you want to pay more we'll take you by easy stages through the whole range of Rogers-Peet's suits—imported Scotch suitings and all—up to the limit—$40.00.

There is a suprisingly large and interesting stock of the new smart cheviot suits, gray mixtures and brown effects in men's and young men's sizes at such moderate prices as $10, $12 and $15—all new, all coats with hand felled collars—all better than you'll find elsewhere for so little money.

"JOE" THOMASDid Not Fight Last Night

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Joe Thomas, the California middleweight, and "Jumbo" Wells, the rising local heavy, failed to engage in their scheduled ten-round mix-up at the Long Acre A. last night. When the pair were matched, Wells agreed to weigh in at 165 pounds, but when he tipped the scales last evening he found himself thirteen pounds overweight. Thomas then refused to box with him. After "Kid" Phillips whipped "Kid" Teuths in ten rounds, the management issued "rain checks" for the next show.

THE JESUITSPRaised BY SECY DICKINSON FOR THEIR WORK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—According to information received here Secretary of War Dickinson, who recently visited the Philippines on his round-the-world trip, highly commended the work being done by the Jesuit fathers at the Manila observatory. He expressed his own appreciation and that of his government of the services of these men, who gave up their Spanish citizenship to serve the United States as its official weather forecasters in the Philippines.

At the American assumption of the reins of government there the Jesuit fathers were the only men in the islands capable of carrying on scientific weather investigations.

The Smithsonian observatory at Georgetown University, conducted by Jesuits in this city, frequently makes public reports of earthquakes in various parts of the world long before the government weather bureau.

VERDICT OF $3000FOR WOMAN STRUCK BY A FALLING BALLOON

DOVER, N. H., Oct. 14.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Caroline Canney of Portsmouth, vs. the Rochester fair association, which opened in the superior court Wednesday morning, reported yesterday afternoon, after being out three hours, a verdict for the plaintiff with damages assessed at $3000.

Mrs. Canney sued for $10,000 for injuries received by being struck by a falling balloon Sept. 22, 1909, while driving to Rochester with her sister. She had watched the balloon rise from the fair ground until it disappeared in the clouds. The empty envelope shot down with great force. It was claimed, covering the rig she and her sister were in and injuring her spine.

CARD PARTYUNDER AUSPICES OF SACRED HEART HOLY NAME SOCIETY

The Holy Name society of the Sacred Heart parish held a card party in the school hall last evening. About 75 couples were present, and all thoroughly enjoyed the evening's program. The party was held to raise money to defray the expenses of the society's table at the coming bazaar and the receipts were quite satisfactory.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

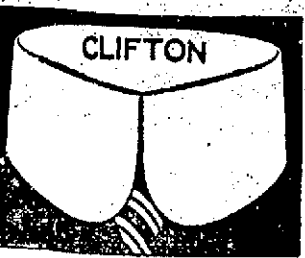

At the Opera House last night the Ringville Jingle Folks attracted a fair sized audience that was kept in continual laughter by the antics of these merry makers. The talented local light Alvin Hillier and the hon-hearted constable, Seth Dewberry, had Hinkley and a great many other folks from Ringville and Hardscrabble gave an excellent presentation of Newton Newkirk's creation. There was a love story, a hero and a villain, characters to be found in every community and of course in Ringville. Everything wound up all right. The villain was routed and loving hearts were united.

THOMAS A. WISE

All roads will lead to the Opera House tonight when the eminent comedian, Thomas A. Wise in "A Gentleman from Mississippi" will be the attraction. That this is one of the best of events of the theatrical year is evidenced by the large advance sale which positively ensures a packed house. "A Gentleman from Mississippi" is of interest to everyone, rich and poor, old and young. It is clean in its dialogue and innocent in its fun. There is no horse-play, the fun is not foolish, and the pathos and love story are not allowed to become tedious. When many of the plays that are now being presented to theatre goers are forgotten "A Gentleman from Mississippi" will remain green in the memory. Wm. A. Brady will send for this engagement the entire cast that supported Mr. Wise during his memorable 16 weeks' run at the Park theatre, Boston, last season. Mr. Wise will appear in his celebrated original role of Senator

SOMETHING NEW AT LAST

The Katzes and Phelan Amusement Co. promises an innovation in the amusement line during its engagement at the Opera House all next week, with daily matinees starting Tuesday, when it will present "The Real Comedian," George Ovey, supported by a company of forty people in a repertoire of up-to-date musical comedies, consisting of "Coming Thro' the Rye," "A Knight for a Day," "Isle of Spice" and "The Show Girl."

These famous musical comedies have never been produced at popular prices, and they will be presented here in a manner superior to that of many of the higher priced companies. A carload of special scenery and electrical effects is carried by the company, and each piece is presented exactly as the originals were. The scenery, musical numbers, lighting effects, costumes etc.

The question is often asked, "How can these pieces be presented in an adequate manner, when the highest price of admission is fifty cents?" The answer is: That the theatregoing public has responded in such a generous manner by attending the different performances that they have made it possible to witness a $1.50 entertainment for popular prices.

The engagement will open Monday night with "The Knight for a Day," commencing Tuesday night "Coming Thro' the Rye" will be presented, and this simple announcement should be sufficient to fill the theatre on this occasion. Wednesday night, "The Isle of Spice" will be presented, and Thursday night "The Show Girl." Each of the above comedies will be given a matinee presentation. The prices during the engagement will be: 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents at night, and 10, 20 and 30 cents at matinee performances. Sale of seats for the entire week is now open.

BLANCHE RING

Fresh from a prosperous run at the Herald Square theatre in New York, Blanche Ring comes to the opera house soon in "The Yankee Girl." The latter vehicle is a new musical play fashioned by George V. Hobart and Sylvio Helm. It comes with the recommendation of a solid year's success behind it. Miss Ring's support includes Harry Gilfoil, William P. Carleton, Bertha Shalek, Margaret Wright, Juan Williams, Cyril Ring, Halliday Porter, William de Ball, Fannie Skidston and E. J. Caldwell. Miss Ring's song successes this season include "Nora Malone," "The Top O' the Morning," "Louisiana Elizabeth," "The Wise Fisherman," and in response to repeated demands the always popular "Rings On My Fingers." The scenic equipment provided "The Yankee Girl" by Lew Fields and Frederic McKay, Miss Ring's managers, is elaborate.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

"Erin's Isle" is one of the biggest and best acts ever presented in this theatre, and the singing of Miss Hortense Searle is a revelation. It is one beautiful production. Herbert Brooks is the best manipulator of cards in the vaudeville business, and his trunk sensation is truly wonderful. It must be seen to be appreciated, and of Hammond & Forrester, no comment need be made. They stand supreme in their line. Don't fail to see this big show. Moving pictures and three acts of vaudeville. Admission, 5 and 10 cents.

COLONIAL THEATRE

This beautiful amusement house the latest to be opened in this city, gave a delightful entertainment to a large audience last evening. The attendance was a capacity one and not another person could have been seated. Judging from the applause that greeted the efforts of the entire talent last evening, the house will draw large audiences if the bills which are to come are of the standard of the one presented last evening.

Among the strong features of the bill was the number of the Tremont Comedy Four which is one of the best group of harmony singers on the vaudeville stage. Each has a voice of exceptionally good quality and they were heard in several solos including the latest classical and sentimental songs. The great feature of the show last evening was the singing of "Silver Threads Among the Gold," a song which forty years ago was the leading song of the day and which apparently does not grow old.

Rita Murri, a comedienne of considerable merit occupies a prominent position on the bill and she was accorded a grand ovation. She has songs which are bound to please, and are far superior to those heard in this city for some time.

John Martin, the man with the xylophone can certainly "hammer the wood" with lightning like rapidity. His foremost piece was the "Foot and Peasant" and he was given hearty applause. His other selections were solos from the popular operas and these also were applauded.

Moving pictures form the latter part of the program.

The Colonial is beyond a doubt one of the leading show houses of this city.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Emil Greder, the former Metropolitan Opera company singer and baritone of international reputation, and Madame Greder, a charming soprano, made a hit with their program of grand opera selections at the grand opera night performance at the Merrimack Square theatre last night.

The Grederes are on the program for the rest of the week, of course, along with a lot of other entertaining vaudeville features. There is Blake's animal circus, with Mand, the original bucking mule.

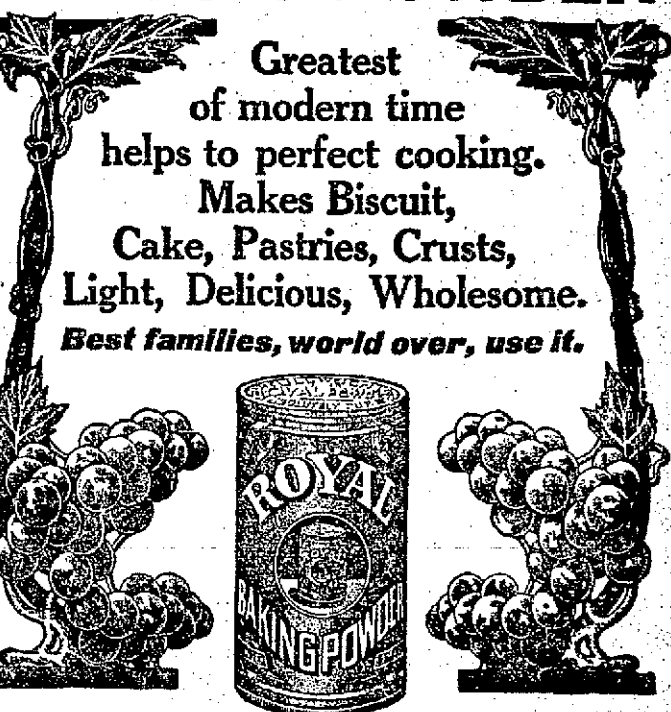

The Seaside Stock company has a delightful vehicle for the talents of the rest of the week, of course, along with a lot of other entertaining vaudeville features. There is Blake's animal circus, with Mand, the original bucking mule.

THEATRE VOYONS

In every amusement program is to be found one number that stands far above the rest, even though the general quality of the bill be the highest. This is just the case at the Theatre Voyons today, for "The Last of the Saxons" is one picture in several that meets the approval of even the severest critic. It is well staged, magnificently acted and its story, though of olden times, is one that holds the attention of everyone. The Vitagraph company, its makers, have produced many masterpieces, but has none that equals this.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

A record-making aeroplane from the Glenn H. Curtiss factory in Hammondsport, N. Y. is on exhibition at Hathaway's theatre, this week, and it will undoubtedly draw hundreds of persons who are deeply interested in the subject of aviation. The frail machine can be seen at close range, and all questions concerning it will be answered by Lecturer Flemings, who has accompanied it through the country. "The Bandit," a strikingly good tabloid drama, is acted faultlessly by E. Frederic Hawley and company. The death scene of Hawley is given with marvellous fidelity to nature, and the entire playlet is filled with sustained suspense. Kelley & Lafferty are a premier dancing pair, the little woman, a proven dancer, a toe dancer of ability, while the man's impersonation of Laddie Cliff is good. Other acts on the bill are: Lorraine, Dudley & Co. in "The Finish," George H. Wood, in "The Dutch musician," plays some real good selections. Ted and Clara Steele are the funmakers on the program, and are a big hit. The moving pictures, which are good, complete the program.

EMPIRE THEATRE

The Empire started yesterday to run special matinees at 5 cents admission. The show is the three big act show, consisting these three days of the Caranos and their dog. They are expert jugglers and their little trained dog has some novel stunts. Eddie Paul, the Dutch musician, plays some real good selections. Ted and Clara Steele are the funmakers on the program, and are a big hit. The moving pictures, which are good, complete the program.

WILL SET HIGH AIR MARK FOR INTERNATIONAL AVIATION TOURNAMENTS

"WINGS OF THE MORNING" OF HUMAN FLIGHT.

By CHARLES N. LURIE.
LAST year at Rheims the high air mark was set for international aviation tournaments. It will be surmounted at Belmont park, New York, this month—surpassed so greatly indeed that the achievements of Glenn H. Curtiss and the others in France will recede into the dark ages of the history of human flight. They have been obscured already by this year's feats of the "man birds," but after the history of the Belmont park meeting is written even the latter will be eclipsed. This is not a rash prophecy. It is the well reasoned expectation of the men best versed in the new science of flying in heavier than air machines.

The very enumeration of the men who will compete at Belmont park sends a thrill of anticipation through the informed reader. We have all heard of Curtiss, Wright, Hamilton, Brookings, Baldwin, Shriver, Moissant of America, Le Blanc, Latham, De Lesseps, Morane of France, Radley, Grahame-White of England, Ollivier of Belgium and the other famous fliers, and we hear with delight that they have brought or will bring to the meeting place the machines in which they have striven for and achieved the world's records in speed, distance, height and continuous flight. The men named, with others who will pit their skill against them, are the fliers who have been thrilling the world recently with their daring feats in the air. But it is a safe inference from the international character and importance of the coming meeting that they have reserved their best for the days beginning Oct. 22 and ending Oct. 30 at the famous race track on Long Island. The International Aeronautic federation is the body under the auspices of which the great meeting will be held. It is recognized as the governing body of aviators the world over and holds close relationship with the leading aeronautical societies of the various countries. Its special prize at the coming meeting is the trophy shown in the accompanying illustration—the "coupe internationale d'aviation," or international speed trophy, which was won by Curtiss last year at Rheims. Possession of this trophy determines the place of the subsequent annual international meeting. The fact that it was won by Curtiss, an American, last year brought to the United States this year the international meeting. It need scarcely be added that our fliers are determined to retain the cup here for at least another year. Much Cash Offered in Prizes. Other prizes there will be in abundance at Belmont park. The committee in charge of the American end of the affair is composed of men of wealth and high standing, with Allan A. Ryan at their head. They have spared neither time nor money in making the arrangements for the tournament. The amount of the money prizes offered to the aviators was figured recently at more than $50,000, with more cash in prospect as the time of the contests approached and men of wealth warmed up to the opportunities of awarding skill and daring in the air. One man whose name was not divulged was so carried away with enthusiasm over the tournament that he offered $5,000 to the man who would ascend 10,000 feet or more at Belmont park. Ten thousand feet, almost two miles up in the intangible atmosphere—think of it! Why, less than two years ago we were marveling over the great record of Wilbur Wright, who flew 862 feet at a height of but a few feet in the air, remaining in the air but fifty-nine seconds. Today we hear of men flying 100 miles or more without alighting and of speeds of sixty to seventy miles an hour. Verily, "Brethren, the world do move," as the old colored preacher used to say. It is asserted that the contests at Belmont park will be primarily tests not of men, but of machines. That is not to say, of course, that the machines will operate themselves or that the skill and daring of their operators will not be determining factors in many cases. But among the learned in such matters interest at Belmont park will not be centered on the fact that a Wright or a Curtiss or a Le Blanc or a Cattaneo or a Grahame-White or an Ollivier is in the air at any given time, but that he is flying in a Wright biplane or an Antoinette monoplane or a Blériot monoplane or a Farman flying machine. After all, the men are but passing figures. All Sorts of Aeroplanes. Monoplane, biplane and triplane, machines embodying every successful and tentative idea of the aviators—all will be seen in operation at Belmont park. Probably the machine best represented numerically will be the Blériot monoplane, manufactured by the Frenchman who won international fame by making the first air passage across the English channel. He finished second to Curtiss at Rheims last year. At least seven Blériot machines will be used at Belmont park. M. Blériot himself, like the Wright brothers, flies but seldom nowadays, devoting his entire time to the building and improvement of his machines. Among the "crews" of the Blériots at the tournament will be some of the greatest of the air men, such as Le Blanc, Morane and Moissant. The advance in aeronautical science is well illustrated by the fact that some of the Blériot machines will have motors of 100 horsepower each. Every effort has been made to provide an attractive program for the 100,000 or more spectators expected to stock daily to Belmont park. An idea of the anticipated magnitude of the crowd may be gained from the statement of the fact that parking space has been provided for 5,000 automobiles. The roads of Long Island are well adapted for automobile travel, and during the aviation meet every road will lead to Belmont park. A few of the most daring of the aviators are expected to find their way to the course by the air route, but the idea has not been encouraged by the committee, which is taking every precaution to avert such accidents as that at Asbury park, where a too venturesome aviator literally "dropped in." "Something Doing" All the Time. While the program of the tournament calls for flights beginning at 1:30 p. m. every day of the meet, it is expected that there will be "something doing" every daylight minute and even after nightfall. The main events will take place over a 2,500 meter course, the start and finish of each race taking place directly in front of the grand stand. By the way, that grand stand will be in itself a center of attraction when the notice of the spectators is taken temporarily from the "bird men." Some of the best known society people of New York and elsewhere have subscribed for the boxes and will furnish an unprecedented "show" of beauty and fashion.

"As Honest as Any Man Living"

READER, are you an honest man? Not an ordinarily honest man, one who scorns to put the big apples of his business dealings at the top of the barrel and the little ones at the bottom, but an absolutely honest man—let us say a man like Robert C. Winters of New York and John F. Shafroth of Colorado. If you are not, hide your head in diminished make of the immigrant inspectors would be: "Please direct me to the Bronx. I want to pin a medal on the breast of the man I've been looking for ever since the fifth century B. C., the absolutely honest man. I understand he lives somewhere in the northernmost borough of the city in front of me." And after the old cynic philosopher had landed at the Battery and had ridden about eleven miles north on the elevated railroad he would find the em-hold your breaths, the thousands of chair warmers in this office filled nation—that there was not worth enough for him to do to warrant him in signing the monthly payroll. It was no meanly, little, pikerish office that Mr. Winters resigned either. It paid him $4,000 a year, which is considerably above the average of salaries, official and nonofficial. Let us hear Mr. Winters' reasons. They are interesting:

"A man who receives money in a public office and then does not return the full equivalent in work is a grafter, a parasite in the heart of the nation's government. He is obtaining money under false pretenses as much as the man who forges his neighbor's name to a check. He is deliberately robbing his government and in doing so is taking money from the pockets of the taxpayers who furnish funds for the government's maintenance."

Good words, brave words, well and nobly spoken! They ought to be blazoned in letters of gold on the principal facade of every municipal building in the forty-six states. Perhaps if the spirit behind them were more prevalent in our city governments we could defend ourselves more successfully than now against the attacks of Bryce and other foreign critics of our systems of municipal government. If American cities are the worst governed in the world, as is so frequently asserted, it is because there are not in our cities more men like Robert C. Winters.

Let the readers sit down with their consciences and ask themselves whether they would give up $4,000 a year job because the job was unnecessary; because they could not do $4,000 worth of work for their respective cities in a year. How many of them would measure up to the standard?

Let us be thankful that in this respect the west balances the east. To New York's proud proclamation of the name and fame of Winters Colorado replies with the record of John F. Shafroth, governor of the state and recently renominated, who proved his honesty in 1904 by resigning a seat in the national house of representatives because, without his knowledge, his election had been tainted with fraud.

Mr. Shafroth's stand was taken voluntarily. His opponent, Robert W. Bonyng, had contested his election to the house, and the matter had been referred to a committee. An investigation showed irregularities, whereupon Mr. Shafroth arose at his desk in the house and relinquished his office in straightforward, manly terms that evoked instant response in the minds and voices of his fellow members. Mr. Olmsted of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, later declared that the investigation exonerated Mr. Shafroth from any connection with the frauds. The committee had taken no action toward formulating its report on the case, and Mr. Shafroth's relinquishment of his seat was based on the showing made by the handwriting expert employed to examine the ballots. Amid the silence of the house, in a scene that is still recalled by some of its members, Mr. Shafroth was unseated and Mr. Bonyng became a representative from Colorado. "Cynical persons who affect to believe that honesty, unselfishness and a high sense of personal honor are lacking in American political life will find no support for that view in the action of Representative Shafroth," said a contemporary chronicler. "It is a noble example for a public official to set, and we hope that it will have an everlasting influence upon American politics," said another, while a third declared his belief that Mr. Shafroth "will probably rank with Abraham Lincoln in American history as an honest politician."

WALTON WILLIAMS.

More Cities Adopt Commission. In recent elections for commission government the new rule was defeated in Eldorado, Kan.; Fort Pierre, S. D., and Grand Forks, N. D. Abilene, Kan., adopted it by a vote of four to one. A remarkable feature of the commission government movement is noted in the very small percentages of the cities that have rejected it, even in the first attempt to abolish the old ward system, and in the number of cities that have reversed their first vote and adopted the commission plan in the second attempt.

In Kansas sixteen cities have voted on the proposition to adopt the modern form of government. Twelve of these cities voted affirmatively. In Kansas City, Kan., and Coffeyville two attempts were necessary, but the second election, within a year after its defeat, made the victory for the new rule an easy one in both cities. Fort Scott, Eldorado, Winfield and Hiawatha also have defeated the plan in the first election.

In Iowa only one of the five cities that have voted on commission government defeated the measure, and that was Sioux City, which adopted it by a big majority in its second trial a few weeks ago.

Three towns out of four in North Dakota voted on the new rule adopted it the first election. Grand Forks defeated it by a small majority in the election of March 1. In South Dakota, out of six towns to vote on the proposition, four have adopted the commission plan. The fact that the people everywhere show such willingness to abolish what the conservatives call "a time honored institution" is undoubtedly attributable in a large measure to the obvious inefficiency of the ward plan to meet modern requirements in municipal government, but the real inspiration of the movement for commission government is in the fact that it provides a way by which the people can secure the kind of government they want at a reduced cost to the taxpayers.

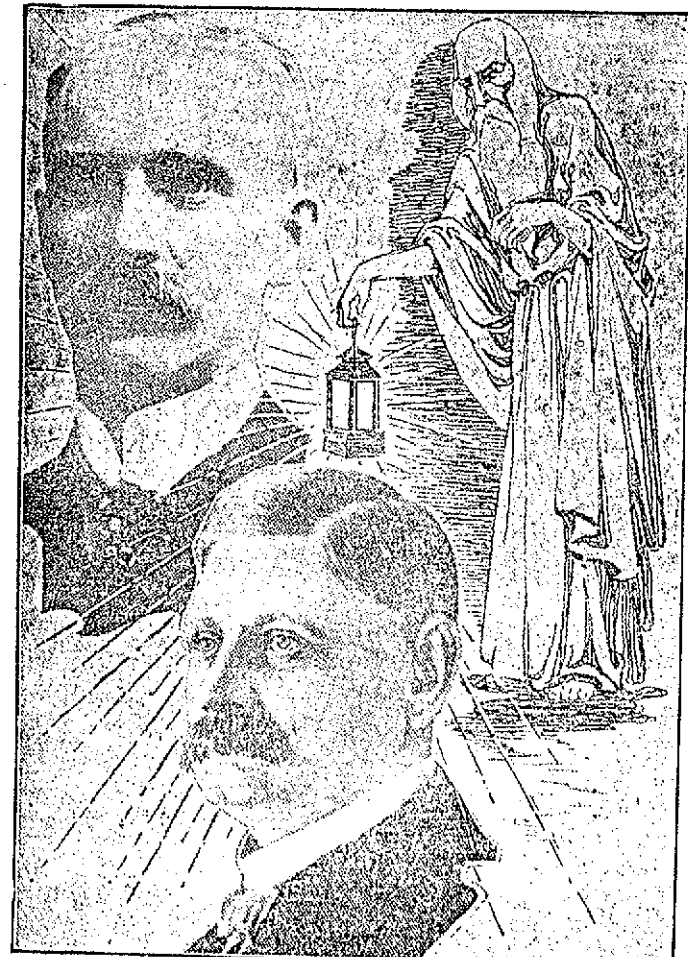

HALLOWEEN MEMORIES

'Tis fifty years, perhaps, or more
Since I, an urchin, standing
One Halloween at Brown's back door
With whistle low, commanding
The lad that lingered still within
To join the midnight frolic;
Seemed like a leader who, with din
Of drum and pipe bucolic,
Calls all his countrymen to arms
And, with the hordes advancing,
Sweeps on to war with loud alarms,
Each mile his power enhancing.

It seems, forsooth, but yesternight
When, with slow paces cringing,
We seek beneath the moon's pale light
The garden gate's unbinding.
With fingers deft the blacksmith's sign
Finds place o'er dentist's shinele;
Doorplate of doctor and divine
In motley mixture mingle
With milliner's aesthetic art,
While garlands gay intertwining
Have changed the humble garbage cart
To coach of fairy, shining.

The roguish eyes that from behind
The jack-o'-lantern's glimmer
Peeped through the latticed window blind,
Although with age grown dimmer,
Still see into my heart today
And memories keen awaken
That, lo, for years a-slumbering lay.
But me have ne'er forsaken,
Oh, Halloween—oh, Halloween,
Thou dream of bygone pleasures!
How dearer is thy fading scene
Than countless golden treasures.

pride after reading this story. If you are, step up on the platform with the two aforementioned gentlemen and share in the plaudits of the multitude. Don't crowd, please. There's lots of room. If old Diogenes sailed from Greece today in the steerage of a liner and landed at Ellis Island with his famous lantern the first request he would boast of his ideal of perfect honesty in Robert C. Winters, until recently assistant superintendent of public buildings of Bronx borough. Mark that "until recently," for there by hangs this tale. The reason for it is found in Mr. Winters' resignation of his former office, and the reason for his resignation is found in the fact—

RECORDS SHAVED

Fast Time Made on the Track at Lexington, Ky.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 14.—The Harvester, Allen Wilson and Joan loved with world's records yesterday afternoon in a manner that was decidedly refreshing.

The stallion king trotted two miles in 4.15, the Boston pacer pulled a wagon in 2.04 and the Transylvania winner marched the third heat of the Walnut half cup race in 2.04.

The Harvester's performance took 13 seconds off the distance record that has been held by Crescens for eight years; Allen Wilson lowered the mark for mares pacing to wagon a full second.

Joan, who on Monday romped off with the Transylvania, yesterday demonstrated the kind of a trotter she is by falling only a quarter second shy of equalling the fastest three heat race in turf history. To beat Billy Burk, who, by the way, was a much improved horse in Geers' skilful hands, she had to step in 2.05, and back in 2.06. This she did so well within herself that McDewitt sent her after the record for 4-year-olds in the third heat.

As in the previous miles she followed Willy down to the three-quarters, and then began to march. It took all she had to come the last two furlongs in 31 seconds, which gave her a record of 2.04. Directum, who got her sire, Directum Siler, 2.11, won a third heat in 2.04, at Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 18, 1909.

Billy Burk did not act like the same horse for Geers that he has in his other races. Monday he could not trot a bit, while yesterday he was right up for much faster time than the Transylvania was won.

The former champion, Willy, continued the improvement he has made from one race to another and was pacer maker into the stretch all three heats.

Allen Wilson's Fast
Walter Cox drove Allen Wilson a nicely rated mile in the trial against the record of Edith W. to wagon. It was the mares' maiden attempt to a four wheeled hitch and Cox feels confident he could put the record at 2.03 if he had another week. The new wagon queen is owned by John W. Cockey of Boston, and has a race record of 2.02.

Dudie Arcandale at last found a soft spot, winning the West stake a 200, and, while Joan blotted the name of her grandsire, Directum, off the list of best-in-record stunts, where it has remained 17 years, by bettering his 4-year-old mark half a second.

The Harvester's remarkable feat was a surprise, as it was not until Wednesday that Ed Geers decided to try for the two-mile record, having had a mile to wagon in mind. Thus the stallion king took the word without special preparation for a long journey.

His was a grand effort, with the last end the fastest. Geers had him under a drive, but he finished true-gaited, and the entire distance covered the ground no faster than in the last few strides. He trotted the first mile in 2.08, and the second in 2.06, with the last half in 1.02. The time by quarters was: 33, 30, 32, 32, 32, 31, 31, 31.

Uthia of Milwaukee, owner of The Harvester, saw his champion in action for the first time this season. Another interested spectator was L. V. Harkness, who bred the horse and sold him as an unbroken 3-year-old for $9000.

What Joan Did
Joan, who on Monday romped off with the Transylvania, yesterday demonstrated the kind of a trotter she is by falling only a quarter second shy of equalling the fastest three heat race in turf history. Dudie Arcandale at last found a soft spot, winning the West stake a 200, 2.12, 2.12; Dr. Treg, a four year old by Regent, getting second money.

Peterson Dorsey, a stallion to Joan and Grace, owned by Capt. David A. Shaw of Cleveland, and trained by Mike McDewitt, won another five heat battle from Major Wellington. This was expected, as the Canadian trotter had had a tough four heat race on Tuesday. He surprised everyone, however, by getting two heats and then forcing Dorsey to a record of 2.07, in the third mile.
Fair Margaret won the race left over from Wednesday, putting in another heat in 2.07, which was necessary to stall off Jusio.

LOYAL TO FOSS

Local Delegates Renew Pledges of Primaries

Thirty-one Out of Thirty-Three Lowell Delegates to State Democratic Convention Will Vote for Candidate Foss on Straw Ballot

Nearly all of the delegates to the coming in response to an 11th hour call cent democratic state convention met issued by Gardner W. Pearson, the local democratic headquarters last evening Foss manager, to discuss the proposition of the state central committee, the delegates vote for his choice for governor by mail.

In view of the fact that several attempts had been made to get credentials from the Foss delegates by supporters of other candidates and the fact that Foss would have been nominated had he received the entire 23 votes entitled to him from Lowell, on the second ballot, Mr. Pearson desired to get the delegates together to notify them that Mr. Foss is still an avowed candidate, and that the contest now is between Messrs. Foss and Hamlin. He also desired to remind them of their duty as pledged Foss delegates.

The meeting brought out the fact that in addition to the 23 delegates pledged to Mr. Foss, Messrs. Humphrey O'Sullivan and Owen Monahan, two unpledged delegates from ward seven, had declared themselves for Foss, making 31 out of 33 for Foss. Of the other two unpledged delegates, Mr. C. F. Cronin declined to commit himself, while Mr. Cronin, the other delegate, was not present.

The meeting was called to order by Thomas J. Mulligan, chairman of the democratic city committee, and there were about 25 democrats present, mostly delegates.

It was expected that Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan of the state central committee would preside, but that gentleman was detained and the other member of the state committee, Mr. Edward Gallagher, officiated as presiding officer.

Mr. Gardner W. Pearson was the first speaker, and he explained at length the situation, urging all to stand faithful to their pledges and express the wish of their constituents by voting for Foss. He said that Foss was entitled by vote of the Lowell primaries to 23 votes from Lowell out of a possible 33.

Robert J. Conroy of ward one spoke in similar vein and paid his respects to Mr. Mansfield, who had essayed to deliver the state branch of the A. F. of L. and who had been repudiated by that branch at its Worcester convention.

It was then decided to hear expressions of opinion from the different wards, each ward being represented by one or more delegates. Mr. Conroy spoke for ward one.

Mr. Rouke of ward two stated that the ward two delegates were with Foss to a finish.

James McVey of ward three stated that the two delegates from his ward would stand by their pledges.

John J. Devine of ward four said there was no doubt as to where the delegates from his ward stood.

Mr. Corbett of ward five said that speaking for himself he was with Foss.

For ward six John A. Gately and another delegate expressed their allegiance to Foss.

When ward seven was reached Ben Owen Monahan of the city committee stated that while he was elected as an unpledged delegate, his vote would go to Foss, and he stated that in the convention Mr. O'Sullivan has expressed himself favorable to Foss.

Mr. Cronin was called upon, but declined to commit himself.

The delegates from wards eight and nine declared themselves for Foss, and hence it was Foss all the way through to Foss, and he stated that in the convention Mr. O'Sullivan has expressed himself favorable to Foss.

SEAMAN THOUGH INJURED, STUCK TO HIS POST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Another New England seaman has been commended by the navy department. He is Lewis Earl Thompson of the battleship South Carolina. During the recent battle practice on Sept. 21 a bone in the little finger of his right hand was broken and his hand badly bruised by the sliding door of the ammunition car falling upon his hand while one of the turret guns was being loaded.

Notwithstanding this accident Thompson loaded the gun for another shot, using his injured hand during the operation. Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop yesterday wrote a letter to Thompson, stating that "the department commends you for your de-

The Famous Rayo

Does Not Strain the Eyes

Don't use a small, concentrated light over one shoulder. It puts an unequal strain on your eyes. Use a diffused, soft, mellow light that cannot flicker, that equalizes the work of the eyes, such as the Rayo Lamp gives, and avoid eye strain.

The Rayo is designed to give the best light, and it does.

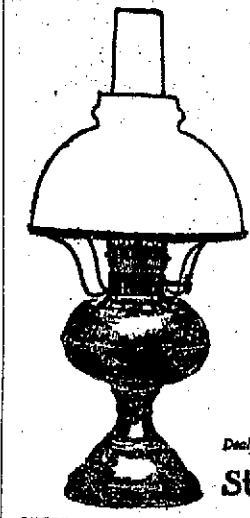

It has a strong, durable shade-holder that is held firm and true. A new burner gives added strength. Made of solid brass and finished in nickel. Easy to keep polished. The Rayo is low priced, but no other lamp gives a better light at any price.

FOR NEW SEWERS

A. C. Wheelock and Others Petition

Two petitions were considered at a meeting of the committee on sewers held last night. The first was a petition by A. C. Wheelock and others, that back Central street be placed in condition for smooth paving as regards sewers. There were no petitioners present, and Mr. Ed. Fay said he knew of no reason for a sewer in the vicinity of Central street, near Church street.

A. C. WHEELLOCK
Our Largest Real Estate Owner.

He said the sewer had been satisfactory for 25 years. Fisher J. Pearson, representing property owners, said he did not wish to appear as a remonstrant and his clients would willingly pay what the committee agreed was right, but he could not see the need of a new sewer.

Alderman Connors said he did not think the petition was entered primarily for a sewer, but it was entered as preparatory to a new street.

CARBONOL

Is Ideal for Household, Hospital and Personal Use

Carbonol is one of the wonderful by-products of coal tar. It is the greatest known disinfectant, antiseptic, deodorizer and cleanser.

Its use will keep every waste receptacle about the house clean and sanitary. It will disinfect and deodorize every place, such as refrigerator drain, sink, garbage and cellar, which are likely to emit odors.

Use it in the water you clean with and your house will be kept from disease germs. Use it in the bathing water—it is invigorating and healthful.

For the sick-room carbonol is invaluable. It is soothing and healing and can be used with perfect safety on bruises, cuts, sprains, ulcers, wounds. It always pain and prevents infection.

Its work is quick and effective. Carbonol as an antiseptic is not surpassed by any other known substance. It is far superior to Carbolic Acid and is neither a poison nor a caustic.

Carbonol as a germicide is instantly destructive and effective.

Use carbonol wherever you use water—either for personal or household use.

Carbonol is sold by all leading dealers. Price 10c, 25c, 50c and 75c per bottle. If your dealer doesn't handle same, send name and address and we will send you a liberal sample free.

IS CALLED A SPY
Charge Made Against a Publisher

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A committee of six, composed of representatives of various Russian revolutionary bodies, made public their verdict that Alexander N. Evalenko, a publisher, was guilty of having been chief spy of the czar's government in this city. The committee was appointed at Evalenko's own request, when charges were made against him in Sept. 25, 1909, by Vladimir Bourtsief, "the Sherlock Holmes of the Russian Revolution."

The verdict caused a stir on the east side. The Jewish afternoon newspapers published extras with big headlines and pictures of Evalenko and Bourtsief. These were eagerly bought by excited groups of men and women gathered along East Broadway in the Russian colony and gave voice to loud wails.

The committee consisted of Dr. C. H. Zhilowsky, chairman, and Dr. M. Romina, representing the socialist democratic party; Dr. Paul S. Kaplan, Dr. James Lopopoloff, Dr. Caspe and H. Burgin. They all signed this statement:

"We find that A. Evalenko is guilty of having been a secret agent of the Russian police department to whom he delivered evidence concerning political immigrants living here, while at the same time he was a member of the Russian social democratic party, of the Bund, of the defunct club of Russian students and of other Russian revolutionary organizations."

KILLED BROTHER

Because He Was Rejected as Partner

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 14.—Because his brother refused to give him a home and partnership in his business, Louis Scherr stabbed his brother, Harry Scherr, to death. The police caught the slayer a few minutes after the cries of his dying brother attracting scores. Louis Scherr is 22 and his victim was two years older.

When taken to the central station the slayer told the deputy police marshal that he had planned to kill his brother and had come from New York to carry out his design.

"I don't care what they do with me," said the prisoner. "I don't care if I die now."

A fierce fight occurred in the brother's tailor shop, a neighbor says, before the younger man drew the dagger from his pocket and plunged it in his brother's body.

HORRORS OF JAIL

the Court

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—"The horrors of life imprisonment; a classic delivered from the bench." Such was the title suggested for the following utterance made by Judge Marcus Kavanagh in sentencing Joseph Welcome for life for the murder of Mrs. Mary McLean:

"Welcome, you, committed a terrible crime. Your punishment is to be more terrible still."

"The instinctive, unreasoning horror of mankind regards death as a severe punishment. This idea is not correct. You are now to receive a sterner punishment. Your victim died but once, you will die a hundred times; you will suffer more the day you put on your prison clothes than she did in her death. After that there will be only the hopeless, painful years from day to day, from month to month, stretching out forever and in agony."

"In four or five years the eternal solitude and silence will begin to crush in upon you like an iron weight. You hear that street car bell ringing in the street as it passes now. You will remember it in after years as the most exquisite music. It will mean hurrying crowds that go where they like and do as they please; it will mean the greatest of all pleasures—freedom. You can only dream of it by day and by night, and your dream will be torture unbearable."

NEWPORT, R. I.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 14.—A strong wind that fanned a woods fire into a conflagration yesterday destroyed several buildings on the farm of Louis Blason of Portsmouth, with their contents at an estimated loss of $12,000. A bucket brigade saved the farmhouse.

FOUND DEAD

GIRL WAS TO HAVE BEEN MAR-RIED SOON

BARTON, Vt., Oct. 14.—Helen Scott, aged 19, daughter of F. N. Scott of St. Johnsbury, was found dead in bed yesterday morning at the house of her uncle, Dr. J. A. Pierson, where she was visiting.

Miss Scott underwent an operation for appendicitis about six weeks ago and was left with a weak heart, which probably was the cause of her death. She was to have been married Oct. 23 and was here making preparations for her wedding.

DIETRICH FOR CONGRESS

THE OPERA HOUSE

Has Plan to Have Tickets Delivered

The somewhat unique and altogether pleasing announcement is made by the management of the Lowell opera house that future telephone orders for tickets will be delivered by special messenger, when the patron so desires. This delivery, of course, will only be made within the city limits, and should prove a great convenience to patrons of the opera house, especially to ladies who do not find it convenient to call or stand in line at the box office, as well as to business men who do not have the time to visit the box office. The city will be divided into routes or districts for the better service of patrons and a special messenger will make a daily delivery of tickets, for which the person ordering them will sign in a form similar to that used by the telephone companies.

The forms will include blank spaces for the numbers of the seats delivered and their location, the name of the person who ordered them, the amount paid the messenger boy for them, and the time they were received. This plan will go into effect immediately.

$1.00 for large bottle which lasts 24 days. Dr. Leonhardt Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

Manager Ward desires it understood that, as heretofore, telephone orders will not be received until after the line at the box office has been served. After that, however, until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon of the day the particular piece is played, the tickets can be ordered and will be delivered.

90 YEARS OLD
MRS. SATTERLEE GIVES SOME ADVICE TO WOMEN

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Mrs. M. L. Satterlee, who at the age of 90 finds her chief diversion in swimming, celebrated her birthday anniversary yesterday. During the festivities she found time to reveal the mode of living to which she believes her longevity to be due and to give modern women advice how to grow old gracefully. Here is Mrs. Satterlee's advice to the woman in her prime today: "Don't smoke; don't drink; don't wear a hobble skirt; don't wear tight corsets; don't wear tight shoes; don't play bridge or any other game that makes you worry over it."

THOS. J. DURNINRe-Elected President of
A. F. of L.

WORCESTER, Oct. 14.—Thomas J. Durnin of Holyoke was re-elected president and Dennis D. Driscoll, of Boston, secretary-treasurer without opposition at yesterday's session of the convention of the Massachusetts branch of the American Federation of Labor in this city. The following vice presidents were chosen: James W. Wall, Worcester; M. D. Collins, Cambridge; J. J. Menzie, Lawrence; J. W. Powers, Fall River and F. M. Bump, Raynham. After re-electing J. W. Sherman of Boston, chairman of the legislative committee and choosing three other members of that committee, the convention was forced to take several ballots before it could elect a fifth member. Those chosen were Henry Stirling of Boston; J. J. Griffin of Lynn and W. E. Sproule of Lowell.

Charles A. Cullen of Worcester was elected delegate to the national convention of the federation. It was voted to hold next year's meeting in Haverhill. The convention is expected to last through today.

BOTH INJURED

PUGILISTS MET WITH PAINFUL INJURIES

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—It was developed that both Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion, and Tommy McFarland of California fought the greatest part of their battle with broken hands. Before the close of the ten round contest, the champion complained of pain in his arm which was broken in his fight with Jack Redmond a few months ago. Wolgast after the contest declared that he would be unable to fight again for five months, possibly more, on account of the injury. On the other hand, McFarland, who took the match on two days' notice because Tommy Gary was unable to fight through sickness, jumped into the fray and fought the champion over the full ten rounds. When he left the ring he did not say anything about his left hand, which had been fractured just below the wrist. Next day the hand was swollen to twice its natural size. He had the bone set and the hand and forearm placed in a cast. It still is in the cast and will be for several days.

CHORAL SOCIETYAnother Meeting With
Good Attendance

A well attended meeting of those interested in the formation of a choral society was held last night in the vestry of the First Trinitarian Congregational church. There were about 70 persons present and they were unanimous in favoring an organization.

A committee was appointed to bring in a list of names for permanent officers at the next meeting which will be held at the church next Thursday evening at 7.45 o'clock.

William R. Lane is the conductor and the chorus at the present time is excellent, there being many fine voices in the number who have already signified their intention of joining the proposed organization.

The temporary committee voted that four rehearsals be given, before the question of dues should be settled, and that at these four rehearsals the members attending pay 10 cents at each meeting. It is hoped by this plan to gain a large membership, so that the dues for the season can be put at the minimum rate. It is also hoped that a large associate membership can be induced to lend its assistance to the undertaking. There is no doubt whatever about its success, if those who believe in such an organization will talk it up, and give it their active as well as moral support.

RIKER SPECIAL CHOCOLATES

Will be sold tomorrow (Saturday) in our 13 stores in Boston, Lawrence, Lowell, Salem and Brockton.

A year ago this feat would have been impossible, but we feel sure we will do it tomorrow.

Riker's Special is the excellent mixture which we claim is not excelled by any other regularly sold at 40c, and is sold Saturday only at the special price of 29c.

Without a bit of advertising, other than the word of mouth expressions from pleased customers, our sales every succeeding Saturday have grown with leaps and bounds.

Because of the unusual quantity, we began to pack this 8000 pounds of candy yesterday; but ordinarily it comes to you just 2 days old—made on Thursday, packed on Friday and sold on Saturday.

Come in to any of our stores and see it disappear.

You'll agree with us that we will accomplish this remarkable feat.

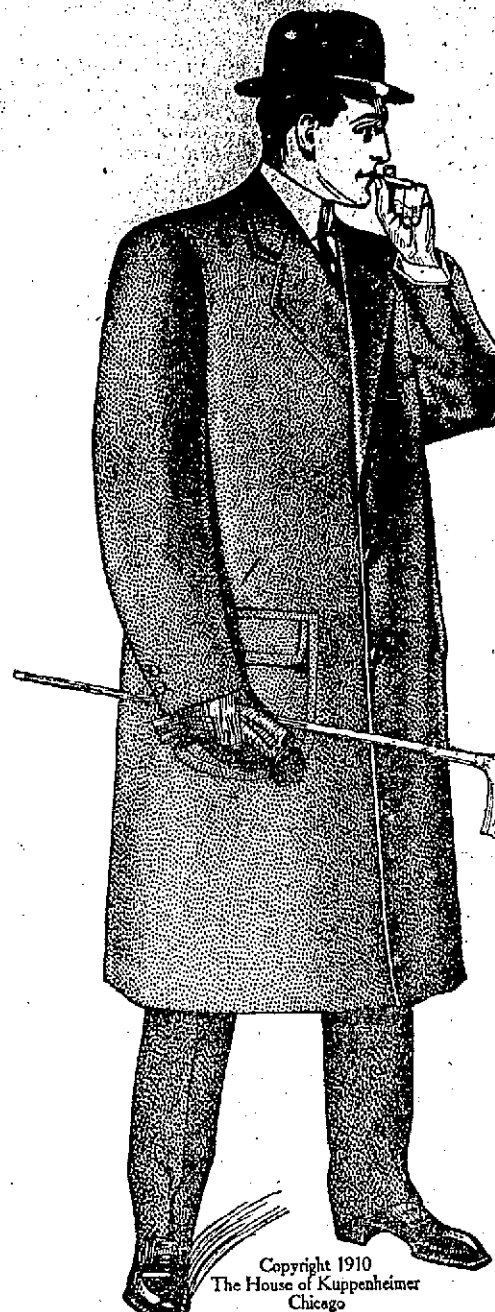

Don't form any conclusion about the quality from the price. We admit it ought to sell for more money, but we take this method of advertising our candy department. You could pay half as much more and not get a mixture so pure, wholesome and delicious.

Here's the offer—Buy a pound Saturday at 29c, take it home, and if you don't agree with us that you never bought a better candy at 40c, bring it back and get your money. It is sold with the "Riker-Jaynes Guarantee of Satisfaction," and you know that is dependable.

CUSTOMS FRAUDS

Whole Art Establishment Seized
by Customs Inspectors

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The entire Fifth avenue establishment of the five Duveen brothers, known the world over as dealers in rare art objects and antiques, was seized by federal officers late yesterday, and Benjamin J. Duveen, the only member of the firm in the city at the time, was placed under arrest, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government out of customs duties.

Henry J. Duveen was arrested on the Cunard line Lusitania when the vessel reached quarantine late last night. He was taken off on a revenue cutter and hurried to the federal building for arraignment.

Henry A. Wise, U. S. district attorney, in asking for extraordinarily heavy bail when the prisoner was arraigned, said the frauds would reach more than $1,000,000, and that all five brothers were implicated. Bail was fixed at $50,000, which was promptly given, and Duveen was released.

Whole House Seized

Special agents of the department of justice, with warrants, conducted the raid. After placing Benjamin J. Duveen under arrest a search for undervalued articles was begun and more than a van load of "suspicious" goods was found.

It was then decided to place the entire establishment under seizure and leave the customs inspectors in charge of it for the night.

Duveen surrendered the keys of the safe and desks and was taken to the federal building. He explained that he was the member of the importing firm at present in New York and asked permission to send a wireless message to his brother, Henry J. Duveen, aboard the Cunard Lusitania. The request was granted.

When the prisoner was taken before U. S. Commissioner Shields, District Attorney Wise in asking for heavy bail, explained that the case was the most important one that the government had thus far had to deal with in importation frauds. In his opinion, $100,000 would be the proper amount of bail. He assured the commissioner that he was in possession of evidence concerning huge revenue frauds which were systematically carried on by the five brothers and a man mentioned in the complaint.

The commissioner decided, however, to set the bail at $50,000, and a temporary bond with real estate as security was given by counsel for the firm.

The complaint recites that the defendants conspired to defraud the United States out of customs duties upon merchandise imported and to be imported by means of false and fraudulent invoices, affidavits, entries and other practices.

Specifically the complaint refers to three cases which the six defendants are alleged, on Feb. 10, 1908, to have fraudulently entered at this port.

$28,000 Vases Put at $1107

Mr. Wise said last night that information was recently placed in his hands tending to show that the Duveens had for years been defrauding the government out of customs duties on works of art and antique furniture imported from abroad by means of false consular invoices. The records at the custom house were hurriedly overhauled and the records seemed to substantiate the charges, he said.

Collector Loeb was communicated with and he detailed Edwin B. Norwood, acting deputy surveyor of the port, and two customs inspectors to assist in the investigation, which was conducted with the greatest secrecy.

Mr. Wise declined to give the name of his informant. He added that the consular invoice gave the value of the three vases as $1107, while their real value was $28,000.

The firm of Duveen Bros. is composed of Henry J., Joel J., Louis J., Benjamin J. and Joseph J. Duveen. They have establishments not only in New York but in London and Paris.

Last year the Duveens were reported to have paid half a million dollars for a Franz Hals, and at the recent sale of the "Rockets and Rockets and Blue Lights."

While waiting for the bail bond to be made out, Benjamin Duveen said he knew nothing about the importation of the vases alleged to have been undervalued. He explained that little business is done here by the firm during the summer months and that he and his brothers go abroad and attend to matters at the London and Paris branches.

HANGED HIMSELF
A WELL KNOWN BROKER COM-MITTED SUICIDE

FALL RIVER, Oct. 14.—Thomas T. Brady of the cotton and cloth brokerage firm of Hurley, Brady & Co., and one of the best known business men in the city, committed suicide by hanging himself in a room at the Mellen house yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Brady had been in poor health of late, and but recently was discharged from a sanitarium to which he had gone for treatment. He left his office in the middle of the forenoon, and when he failed to return after the noon hour his business associates became apprehensive that something might have happened to him and started a search.

At the Mellen house it was learned that Mr. Brady had come there about 12 o'clock and taken a room, explaining that he desired to lie down and rest. Going to the room the searchers found the door locked. This was forced, and the body of Mr. Brady was found hanging by a fire escape rope attached to the hinge of a closet door. He had apparently stood on a chair and stepped off after adjusting the noose.

It was about 3 o'clock when the body was discovered. Mr. Brady had, in Medical Examiner Gunnings' opinion, been dead three or four hours.

WORSTEDS

For Friday and Saturday

The enthusiastic response to my announcement in last Thursday's Citizen dumfounded me. I expected business—big business—because the extraordinary values and prices demanded nothing less, and to say that my expectations were realized doesn't do justice. I am overwhelmed. If you don't think I sell lower—if you don't think they are the biggest bargains you ever saw for the money, take samples first of what I offer and see what like goods will cost you in any store in Lowell. You need not order—simply come in and get samples. When you are satisfied that I am lower by $5 or $10, come back and leave your order and measure.

I'LL PUT A BLACK UNFINISHED

Worsted Suit on your back in a week's time made to order from your own selection for $10.00—I know wholesalers who are charging that price for Cassimere suits in thousand lots—and the retailers have to pay it—for Cassimere, mind you, that splits and tears like the bark of trees. I am selling worsteds.

POLL OF DELEGATES

To Democratic State Convention
Will be Completed by Monday

Democratic Nominators Will Not
Act on the Gubernatorial Nomination Before That Time—May Choose Man for Lieut. Governor if Decision is Against Loring

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—There will be no more meetings of the democratic nominating committee of four until Monday forenoon unless the state ballot law commission should decide today that the committee's nomination of Clifton R. Loring for lieutenant governor was illegal.

Chairman Macleod has asked the members to hold themselves in readiness to meet in case the decision of the ballot law commission is against the committee.

In this event it would be necessary for the committee to agree on a candidate and secure nomination papers for him containing 1000 names of registered voters of the commonwealth.

Robert J. Crowley, one of the members of the committee, announced last evening that if the ballot law commission's decision is adverse to the committee his choice for lieutenant governor will be Hon. Thomas F. Cassidy of Adams, who nominated Vahby for governor in the convention in one of the most eloquent speeches heard in a democratic convention in years, and who was badly injured while returning to his home in an automobile last Saturday.

Mr. Cassidy is out of the hospital and is nursing his wounds at his home in Adams.

Will Meet Monday Morning

The committee held two brief informal meetings yesterday, one in the forenoon and one at 2 p. m., but as Macleod and Maynard took the ground that they would not vote to fill the fifth place until after they knew what the result of the special delivery letter canvass of the delegates is, it was agreed to adjourn to Monday at 10 a. m.

Both sides appear to be resting on their oars, but it is known that the Foss men are all over the state and working like beavers in an effort to flood the committee of four with Foss preferences.

The Foss men have sent word by letter, telephone, telegraph and in person to their supporters to be sure to send in their ballots for their candidate.

Yesterday Eugene N. Foss declared that he was the logical candidate for governor and that he would have been nominated on the third ballot but for a factional disagreement.

"I am not seeking to be governor of Massachusetts," said he, "but I do stand for a principle and would like an expression of opinion from the voters of Massachusetts and their full support of that principle. I want all tariff barriers between the United States and her Canadian neighbor abolished; in other words, I want free trade between the United States and Canada."

"This means far more to Massachusetts, New England and the United States in a business way than anything else now under discussion. We can forge ahead as never before with free trade relations over our northern border."

"I do not care to go back to Washington. I have had my say there, and the principles for which I stand can be more effectively battled for from the state house in Massachusetts at the present time than from any other point."

"I do not want the governorship for the honor involved, but want it to endorse the principles upon which I stand."

"I am the logical candidate of the Massachusetts democracy. I should have been nominated on the third ballot, but a factional disagreement forced an adjournment of the convention before the third ballot could be had."

Hayes Wants Letters Held

Yesterday the Hamilton men learned that the special delivery canvass letters to the delegates to the Faneuil hall convention will have a number on the flap of the envelope and immediately charged that the state committee had "keyed" the delegates, that is, each delegate is numbered and the number on the flap of the return envelope corresponds with the number beside his name on the list of delegates in the possession of Chairman Macleod of the state committee.

In this way, the Hamilton men said, it would be an easy matter for the state committee officials to keep track of those who had not replied by checking off the number on the list at headquarters as the return envelopes came into the state committee rooms addressed to William F. Hayes, secretary of the nominating committee.

The tardy Foss men could be traced and traced up.

Late in the afternoon yesterday Soc. Hayes called on Chairman Macleod and had a talk with him about the poll of the delegates now in progress.

As a result of their conference it was agreed that the best way would be to have all the letters addressed to Hayes as secretary of the nominating committee held up at the Boston postoffice until Monday at 10 a. m., when Mr. Hayes and Executive Sec. Loring of the state committee will call for the replies.

Mr. Hayes and Mr. Loring together called on Postmaster Mansfield yesterday afternoon and made the request on him that he hold such mail as indicated. The postmaster said he would and gave the necessary instructions to his subordinates.

Mr. Hayes proposes to open those letters in the presence of the political reporters Monday morning.

Mr. Mansfield has until next Thursday at 5 p. m. to withdraw, and then the committee has until the following Monday to substitute a name for his for governor.

Nomination papers for Lieutenant governor will have to be filed by next Monday at 5 p. m. in the event of the ballot law commission rendering an adverse opinion on Loring's nomination.

Urged to Vote Early

Following is the letter sent to the delegates yesterday by Chairman Macleod of the state committee relative to the preference for governor:

"Dear Sir: At the democratic state convention held on Thursday, Oct. 6, Frederick W. Mansfield was nominated for governor upon the understanding that he would withdraw as a candidate when a committee chosen by the convention and consisting of Frederick J. Macleod of Cambridge, Joseph A. Maynard of Boston, William P. Hayes of Springfield and Robert J. Crowley of Lowell, such committee to have the right at its discretion to select a fifth member of the committee, should select the democratic candidate for governor to fill the vacancy to be occasioned by such withdrawal.

"This committee of four has held several meetings, but has been deadlocked upon the choice of a candidate for governor, two members favoring Eugene N. Foss and the other two members favoring Charles S. Hamilton. The committee has also been unable to agree upon the selection of a fifth member of the committee.

"In order to deal with this emergency a meeting of the democratic state committee was duly called and held today, and the following vote was passed:

"Voted, that a special delivery letter be mailed to every regularly elected delegate to the recent state convention, with a special delivery return envelope enclosed, addressed to William

P. Hayes, secretary committee of four having power to select a candidate for governor, requesting them to reply immediately, stating their preference for the most available candidate for governor at this time, for the information and guidance of the special committee above named."

"We desire to secure an expression of opinion if possible from every duly elected delegate to the state convention so that the nomination of the candidate, when made, will represent the choice of the delegates themselves to the state convention."

"As the committee is obliged by law to file this substitute nomination within two or three days, we urge you to send in your reply at once, so that it may be received before final action is taken by the committee. Yours very truly,

Frederick J. Macleod, Chairman.
Thomas J. Collins, Secretary."

MISSION WORK

Described at Meeting in Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—The centennial celebration of the founding of the board of commissioners for foreign missions virtually ended today when a dozen or more missionaries detailed the board's achievements in foreign fields, when new missionaries were presented to the audience, and when farewell addresses were made. On Sunday the annual sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. William D. Mackenzie of Hartford, Conn., in the Old South church, where there will also be a special communion service.

President Capen of the board presided at today's closing session, and the missionaries were presented by the veteran foreign secretary, Rev. Dr. Jas. L. Barton. Seven missionaries, including teachers, preachers and doctors,

WORTH A MOUNTAIN OF GOLD

During Change of Life, Says Mrs. Chas. Barclay

Granville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth a mountain of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—MRS. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Granville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as inflammation, ulceration, local weaknesses, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Pitch of Andover Theological seminary in connection with the triennial meeting of the national council of Congregational churches there was a public meeting of the Women's National Federation of State Home Missionary society in the Park street church.

WILL SEEK FUND WIFE GAVE BLOOD

To Fight the Hog Cholera In Effort to Save Her Husband's Life

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The department of agriculture is arranging to bring to the attention of the various legislatures in those states where hogs are raised, the necessity of providing funds for a hog cholera serum, the success of which has been thoroughly demonstrated by the bureau of animal industry.

It is the belief of the department of agriculture that a serum has at last been found which, when properly applied, will save millions of dollars annually to the farmers of the country. No money is provided by the government for the distribution of this serum and unless the states, through their departments of agriculture, arrange to manufacture the antitoxin, it is feared its benefits will be lost.

A successful demonstration of the value of the serum has just been concluded at Omaha. Its efficiency had been proved many times before, but in order that it might be brought more strikingly to the attention of the westerners a practical demonstration was arranged at the Union Stock Yards at Omaha.

In its report on this demonstration the department says: "The experiment was witnessed by representatives of the Nebraska agricultural station and by officials of the Nebraska Swine Breeders' Association, and it convinced them that the serum was entirely effective."

Pulcher was born in New York 32 years ago and became a member of the police department on 1905. At his physical examination he surprised the department surgeons by his magnificent physique. He was 6 feet 4 inches in height and was perfectly developed. Before he received a mark of 100 on the physical test another examination was made by several well known physicians.

Three weeks ago Pulcher asked for leave of absence as he was suffering from intestinal trouble.

TOBACCO CROP
May be Ruined by the Storm

HAVANA, Oct. 14.—The full force of the storm, the approach of which was heralded yesterday, struck this city at one o'clock this morning. The gale brought with it a deluge of rain, extinguishing the street lamps. At eight o'clock this morning the wind was blowing strongly from the southeast and rain fell. Up to the half hour minor damage had been reported.

It is feared that the tobacco crop in Pinar del Rio will be ruined.

CENTRE OF STORM
KEY WEST, Fla., Oct. 14.—The heavy wind and rain storm which came from Havana swept this city this morning. The wind coming from the southwest.

According to the weather forecast the tropical storm is centered in the Yucatan channel and still moving in a westerly direction. The steamer Miami, which sailed from Knight's Key yesterday afternoon during the storm, arrived here at 10 o'clock last night after a terrible trip.

WILL HAVE CONNECTING LINK
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—The steamers Harvard and Yale, which it was announced some time ago were to be taken off the Boston-New York run and sent to the Pacific coast, will be operated, according to the Chronicle, between Los Angeles and San Francisco by a combination of interests in which the Western Pacific Railroad Co. is dominant.

This will furnish the Western Pacific with a connecting link to southern California.

FERRER MEETINGS

MADRID, Oct. 14.—Largely attended meetings in memory of Francisco Ferrer, the alleged revolutionist who was shot by the government on October 13, 1909, were held in this city yesterday and addresses made by republican and socialist deputies. The proceedings passed off quietly.

DAMAGE CLAIMS

Brought Against the City by Various Petitioners

The committee on claims met last night and heard many claims for damages. There were so many claims to be heard that the committee was unable to hear them all and at 11:10 the committee adjourned to meet tonight when the remaining claims will be heard.

Mrs. John M. Ahern asked damages for the death of Kathleen C. her daughter, and John M., her husband.

Her daughter was killed in an accident on the South common July 1, 1910, by the falling of a limb of a tree, and her husband's death followed closely upon the tragic result of the accident. She believed that her husband died in consequence of the accident.

Michael Elliott asked damages as the result of the South common accident in which his son was injured.

Blanche Bouselline, another victim of the South common accident, said she had suffered a lacerated foot, and her children, Lillian and Olive, also had been injured.

Rosie Husson, Robert Kelly and Samuel and Nicholas Moses were other claimants in consequence of the South common accident.

Among the cases listed were:

Winthrop W. Hayward, Dec. 28, 1908, fall.

Annie Dolan, Dec. 16, 1907, fall.

John Payne, April 18, 1910, injury to horse.

Elizabeth Richette, Jan. 31, 1910, fall.

Henry S. Sullivan, Aug. 9, 1910, fall.

Bernard A. Connors, Dec. 20, 1908, struck by double runner.

John Mahoney, June 7, 1909, foot caught in timber.

Peter Charleton, Oct. 23 and 24, 1909, alleged defective grade.

Mary O'Hearn, Jan. 6, 1910, fall.

Bridget Corrigan, Oct. 12, 1909, fall.

Christopher Green, Dec. 29, 1909, fall.

Mary E. Gaisley, Jan. 5, 1910, fall.

Samuel Kelley, May 31, 1910, fall.

Sarah A. Mellen, Jan. 6, 1910, fall.

Michael Killmartin, Dec. 15, 1909, sewer damages.

Winifred Redgan, Dec. 24, 1909, fall.

Elizabeth Ferguson, Jan. 3, 1910, fall.

John S. Brodie, December, 1908, sewer damages.

LOST MONEY

QUICKLY RETURNED THROUGH SUN CLASSIFIED "AD."

Does it pay to advertise in the classified columns of The Sun? That it does can be vouched for by Mrs. Maria Cummings of 234 Adams street, who a few days ago lost her pocketbook containing a large sum of money and several other articles of value. Upon missing the purse, she sent her little daughter to this office to insert a "lost" advertisement. On the day following the first appearance of the advertisement, Mr. James Fitzpatrick, residing at 333 Bridge street, called at this office and, getting a description of the lost pocketbook, the amount of money and the various articles it contained, he handed over the pocketbook to be returned to Mrs. Cummings.

Needless to state, Mrs. Cummings, who could ill afford to lose the large amount of money, was quite overjoyed at her good fortune in having the pocketbook recovered within such a short time, and she was loud in her praise of the value of The Sun's classified columns. This is but one of many instances that occur daily to show the value of the Sun advertisements.

Malthoid Roofing

The dependability of Malthoid Roofing has been proven by special tests covering a period of many years.

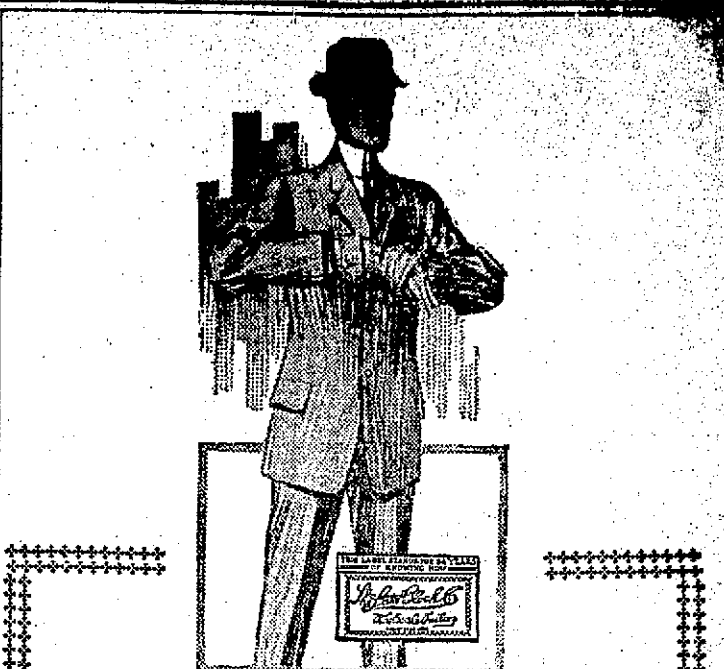

Made in the largest factory in the world—it is absolutely right in every detail.

It resists fire—is acid proof—water and weather proof—Keeps heat in the building in winter.

Keeps it out in summer. Malthoid will last as long as the building it covers.

It is inexpensive easy to lay and your roof troubles are over when Malthoid is laid.

Browns are coming—and going.

We've been selling brown mixture suits freely.

That's particularly why we welcomed one of our early Stein-Bloch purchases that has just come in.

It's lot 9796—a double and twist cassimere that will wear like iron—in a rich shade of brown mixed with white—the pattern, a broken check that is clever for a young fellow and proper for a man of any age.

The model is the Stein-Bloch standard—a conservative, high class selection. The coat is 32 inches long, slightly shaped, with graceful collar and lapels. The vest buttons high, just showing above the coat lapel, and has no collar. The trousers have unfinished bottoms, to be finished with permanent cuffs or with hem to any length needed. Sizes for regular, tall and stout men, up to 46 breast measure.

It's great value in high grade clothing—even for Stein Bloch—at

Don't Be Bald

One of Our Readers Tells How She Obtained a Mafreous Growth of New Hair by the Use of a Simple Home Remedy After Hair Specialists and Tonics Had All Failed

I had what most people would call a beautiful head of golden hair. I prized it most highly as a woman's greatest chief attraction. Suddenly it began to come out very rapidly and at times I had intense itching of the scalp. Physicians and hair specialists said my case was one of dandruff germs, microbes, etc., but nothing that they gave me did the slightest good. On the contrary, my hair seemed to come out even faster, and it was not until I should become entirely bald. In my despair a friend told me of an old remedy which he said would positively grow hair on any head where the hair roots were not entirely gone, and he said the natives of the country where it grew were famous for their long hair. Upon medical advice I combined this herb with Bay Rum and Menthol Crystals and immediately began its use. In three applications the itching stopped the intense itching of my scalp and in a very short time it not only stopped my falling hair, but I noticed an abundance of new hair coming in. In less than one month my hair was longer, thicker and more beautiful than ever. All due to this marvelous hair-growing medicine. The hair which I gave the formula used it on her daughter and she said it made her hair grow five inches in less than a month. Doctors told me when I saw her that it was the only thing which will actually grow new hair, therefore, I think the public ought to have it. At first I would keep it a secret and would not tell anyone, but when I thought I suffered and how badly I needed it and how hundreds of others must need it the same as I did, I felt I ought to give it to the world. I have authorized this paper to publish the formula, which is as follows: Bay Rum, six ounces; Lavone de Composee, two ounces; Menthol Crystals, one drachm. If you like it, perfume, add a few drops of To-Kalon Perfume, which mixes perfectly with the other ingredients. This, however, is not necessary.

Be sure to ask the druggist for all the enclosures in the Lavone de Composee package. One of these entitles you to a handsome free perfume for your hair Tonic bottle and you are also entitled to receive free advice and expert opinion on the hair by simply writing to the address you will find enclosed in the carton.

Ask your druggist for an eight ounce bottle and imitating six ounces of Bay Rum; then put the Menthol Crystals and the Perfume. Next add one-half of the bottle of Lavone de Composee. It stands six to eight hours and add the remainder of the Lavone de Composee. Always buy the Lavone de Composee in a two-ounce sealed bottle, as this preparation contains the juice of the Ponderosa herb mentioned above, and it loses its strength if unsealed. Apply the preparation night and morning and rub well into the scalp. It is the only hair tonic which produces most astonishing results. Be careful not to get it on the face or any part of the body where you do not want to produce hair.

RAW COTTON

$16,000,000 WORTH IMPORTED INTO THIS COUNTRY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Nearly 16 million dollars' worth of raw cotton was, in the fiscal year 1910, imported into the United States, the world's greatest cotton producing country, the exact figures being 86,637, 691 pounds, valued at $16,816,138. This is a larger sum sent out of the United States to buy cotton than ever before, except the year 1907, when the total was $18,030,988.

Most of this cotton from abroad is produced in Egypt, but more than a dozen other countries and all the continents contribute to the grand total, though presumably none of that coming from Europe is the production of that section of the world. The total quantity imported direct from Egypt in the fiscal year 1910 was 57,311,500 pounds, valued at $11,483,555, while 10 million pounds, valued at 2 million dollars, speaking in round terms, came from 35 million pounds, valued at a little more than $1,000,000 came from Asia; 7 million pounds, valued at about $1,000,000 came from South America; and 1 million pounds, valued at $158,600 came from North America.

Of the 10 million pounds imported from Egypt, nearly all came from England and was presumably brought thither chiefly from Egypt and, in less quantities from British colonies. The next largest contributor after Egypt and England is Peru, from which 6 1/2 million pounds, valued at $1,858,978 were imported. From British India 3 1/2 million pounds, valued at $443,607, were imported; from China, over 4 1/2 million pounds, valued at $526,080; from Haiti, 861,002 pounds, valued at $134,115; Mexico, 122,266 pounds, valued at $8,558; and from the Dutch East Indies—Java and Sumatra—379,844 pounds valued at $38,432, with smaller quantities from Venezuela, Santo Domingo, the British West Indies, the Dutch West Indies, Panama, and Nicaragua; while from Canada 46,422 pounds, brought to that country from other parts of the world, were imported.

The average price of this imported cotton was, in 1910, about 33 per cent. higher than that of American cotton exported in the same year, while a few years ago the average price of imported cotton was nearly or quite 100 per cent. higher than the average export price of domestic cotton. This is probably due to the increasing share which cotton from countries other than Egypt forms of the total imports of that article. Egyptian cotton, by reason of its length and fineness of staple, always commands a price materially higher than that of American upland, the average import price of cotton brought from Egypt having been, in 1910, 20c. per pound, against an average export price for American upland in that year of 11c. and, in 1905, 15 1/2c. for Egyptian, against a little less 5c. for American. This question of price indicates quite clearly that 10,000,000 pounds of cotton imported from England in 1910 was also of Egyptian origin, its average import price having been 20c. per pound, or approximately the same as that imported direct from Egypt. The 6 1/2 million pounds imported from Peru averaged 16c. per pound, or a little more than the export price of domestic cotton; from India, about 10c. per pound, and from China, 11 1/2c.

China, India and Peru sent larger quantities of cotton to the United States in 1910 than ever before, imports of Chinese cotton but once reached as much as a half million pounds prior to 1909, when the total was 2 1/2 million pounds, against 4 1/2 million in 1910. From India the cotton imports had never reached as much as a half million pounds prior to 1907 and in 1910 for the first time exceeded one million pounds, having been in that year 5 1/2 million pounds, against 839,300 pounds in 1909. From Peru the importations in considerable quantities extend over a much longer term of years, having averaged more than one million pounds per annum in the decade, 1892-1901, advancing to 4 million in 1907 and 6 1/2 million in 1910. From Mexico the quantity imported has greatly fluctuated, from 11 million pounds in 1907 to 122,266 pounds in 1910, this marked reduction being presumably due, in part at least, to the development of the cotton-manufacturing industry in that country.

Meantime with the steady growth in importations of cotton—those of 1910 having been, with three exceptions, 1902, 1907 and 1909 the largest on record—the quantity of American cotton consumed in our markets is rapidly increasing, having grown from 1,009,000 bales in 1870 to a little less than 2,000,000 bales in 1880, 2,600,000 bales in 1890, 3,600 bales in 1900, and over 5,000,000 bales in 1908, and 1909; while the share which Southern mills take of this total has increased from less than 10 per cent. in 1870 to practically 50 per cent. in 1909, and figures published by the bureau of statistics indicate that the amount of cotton consumed by southern mills in the cotton year 1910 actually exceeded that consumed by northern mills.

GRAND FALL OPENING

In Our New Quarters, 209-211 Middlesex Street

Saturday, October 15th

HAVING outgrown our old store, we desire to inform the public that we have opened a New Store under a long term lease, at 209-211 Middlesex street, where we will show a complete line of CLOTHING, HATS AND SHOES, FOR MEN, WOMEN, BOYS AND GIRLS, to be sold on our popular plan of easy weekly payments. This store is one of a chain of 46 stores. The tremendous purchasing power of such a large number of stores enables us to buy our goods at absolutely the lowest possible prices. This also enables us to give our customers a lower price than those buying for one or a few stores could attempt to do. Our clothing is made in clean workshops, by well paid tailors. Our name has always represented reliable goods, and, as in the past, we mean to have it so in the future. After 40 years of solid business experience, we stand FIRST in quality and variety, in liberal dealings, in value given to buyers, in reliable statements. Our stores are the chosen shopping places of people in all walks of life, and we make a special study of the wants of all. We are in touch at all times with the clothing requirements of men, women and children. Our reach, ever growing wider, gives us greater command of the markets, and with our facilities and complete equipments we can serve you properly. We trust everybody. Credit with us is free to all. The weekly payments are easy, and before you know it your clothing is paid for and you have never missed the money. Try it and save money. All unsatisfactory purchases will be cheerfully exchanged. There are no disagreeable features connected with opening an account at this store, and that this is so, we have but to point to our great success in other cities.

Men's Suits

RAISE WRECK

Work on the Battleship Maine to Begin

BEVERLY, Oct. 14.—President Taft yesterday finally approved plans for raising the wreck of the battleship Maine from Havana harbor, which called for the completion of the work on or before the 18th anniversary of the destruction of the war vessel, February 15th next.

The work is to be done according to plans made by army engineers and to be under direction of an engineer officer.

President Taft believes that the paramount question in the raising of the Maine is the determining for all time of the cause of the explosion, and whether the source of destruction was from the outside or inside the vessel. For this reason he desires that the work shall remain in the hands of the army engineers and not let out the contract.

By direction of the president, Spain has been invited to send a representative to Havana to be present during the work of exposing and removing the wreck.

The disposition of the old hulk remains to be settled. The army engineers believe that it will be possible to float the wreck, after two-thirds of the vessel has been raised, where the explosion wrought the heaviest havoc and killed the greatest number of the crew while they were asleep in their quarters is believed to be too far gone even to be taken out as a whole, and the wreckage will be removed piecemeal. If congress approves the recommendation of the engineers in charge, the wreck will be taken out to sea and given a ceremonial burial in deep water, there to remain until the end of time.

SECY BALLINGER

Was Injured in Collision of Trains

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 14.—Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior, was one of eleven passengers injured last night by a collision of two passenger trains in the outskirts of Cincinnati on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railroad. Secretary Ballinger's injuries consisted of a severe shaking and a slightly bruised arm. Of the injured, none will die. Secretary Ballinger was returning to Washington from Oklahoma where he attended the congress of Indians.

Some time, Bohemians, tonight.

WOMAN RESCUED

She Was Found Burning on the Floor

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—Breaking through a heavy door, Patrolman Timothy Carroll of the East Dedham street station ran into the house at 176 Shawmut avenue last night and found Lillian Chalmers, 62 years of age, on the floor of the parlor with her clothing aflame and with the floor of the house afire. Carroll first extinguished the fire on her clothing by using a heavy rug, and then beat out that consuming the wooden floor and a chair in the room. Miss Chalmers is at the city hospital, expected to die at any moment. The accident occurred at 8:45. Miss Chalmers is lame, and it is supposed that her contorted condition made it difficult for her to get about. As she stepped from her bed she fell against a small parlor stove. The blazing hot coals fell out of the door and instantly her clothing and the floor were afire.

OLDEST RESIDENT

MRS. HELENE DUNN, AGED 97, IS DEAD

Mrs. Helene Beland Dunn, probably Lowell's oldest resident, died yesterday at her home, 34 Gershon avenue, aged 97 years.

Madame Dunn was born in February, 1814, on the banks of Lake Muskogee, Que. Her parents had just come to a new parish founded there, and she was born the year in which the parish was founded. She lived her long life there throughout, leaving it only to come to her children and grandchildren here 10 years ago. At 18 she married Hector Dunn, who has now been dead 20 years.

Till the last, Mrs. Dunn preserved a keen ear and an excellent sight, also an unimpaired mind, though in body she had been very weak for several months. The end came peacefully, old age, and not illness, having caused the long-active mind, heart and body to give out at last.

Mrs. Dunn left one son, George, of Lowell; two daughters, Mrs. Louise Langelier of Merrimack, Wisnonsin, and Mrs. Hubert Marcoux of North Adams, Mass., also 25 grandchildren, among these being Mrs. Joseph Lambert, with whom she made her home; and 38 great-grandchildren.

IN VAUDEVILLE

TWO LOWELL YOUNG MEN HAVE NOVEL SKETCH

Henri Lavigne, son of Emile C. Lavigne, the famous violinist, and himself a young violinist of promise, is going upon the vaudeville stage with Charles Adelard Gregoire, in a sketch known as "The Parisian Novelty Act." The act represents the study of a Paris artist in the Latin Quarter, and while Mr. Lavigne plays, Mr. Gregoire will make lightening sketches illustrating the act. The two young men will probably tour the southern circuit during the coming winter. Mr. Gregoire was formerly associated with Mr. Edwin Birn in the production of the sketch.

LADIES' SOCIAL CLUB

The Ladies' Afternoon Social club took a trolley trip to Reading on Wednesday. The trip was made during the early part of the morning and the members returned in the evening. Mrs. Henry Brooks had general charge of the affair.

A luncheon dinner was served after which a musical program was given. Those present were: Mrs. J. H. Fuller, Mrs. J. W. Bowen, Mrs. J. W. Gifford, Mrs. A. Worth, Mrs. William Mitchell, Mrs. A. E. Brooks, and Misses Sadie O'Brien, Miss E. Brooks and Jessie Donahoe.

DRAPER AND LODGE

Are to be Opposed by Organized Labor

WORCESTER, Oct. 14.—The position of organized labor to Gov. Ebon S. Draper was reiterated by the Massachusetts state branch American Federation of Labor, at its closing session here yesterday. The federation voted to call upon all union men and friends of labor to work for the defeat of Gov. Draper at the polls this fall, as well as for the defeat of candidates for the senate and house, who had pledged themselves or agreed to vote for "the great arch enemy of organized labor, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge," and also for the defeat of Congressman Gillette.

The convention went on record as in favor of equal suffrage, while action in reference to the workingmen's compensation bill was left to the discretion of a special state committee.

Disapproval was voted of compulsory military training in the public schools as being contrary to the aims of peace.

It was decided that the state branch would this year introduce the following bills in the legislature: The eight hour bill, injunction bill, picketing bill, 54 hour bill, nine hours in eleven bill for street car men, initiative and referendum, barker's license law, and a bill to prohibit the handling of liquor by women where liquor is the principal business.

It was voted to hold the next convention in Haverhill and the date was changed by constitution from the second Monday in October to the third Monday in September.

Richard K. Conant of the Massachusetts child labor committee addressed the convention on the cause of child labor reform.

When You Think

Of the pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from pain. It establishes regularity, subdues inflammation, heals ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult us by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you want a book that tells all about women's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of wrapping and mailing only, and we will send you a free copy of Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in handsome French cloth binding.

A WIFE'S TRIALS

Her Duty to Home and Children
A woman, beautiful wife, she has come up through the earlier years of womanhood, every year an added charm to her development of mind and body. Look at her 12 year baby, two years hence, five years hence, the obligations of her sex as wife and mother have, through mismanagement, upon her health. She is bending nervous. Her step has lost its springiness, she is tired most of the time. Her back aches and her disposition suffers. She goes on all around us; her chances to one some feminine weakness has declared itself and medical attendance becomes necessary.

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the medicine that will build her up and help nature throw off the burden that have come.

Dr. Greene's Nervura is a magnificent help for women at every turn in their lives. It prepares them for every womanly change. It fits them for widowhood and motherhood. It prepares them for motherhood, and all the time it not only preserves them but it keeps the nerves and disposition on all around us; her chances to one some feminine weakness has declared itself and medical attendance becomes necessary.

Take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, for now of all times it is most eager to assist your health, and the system is always made strong and vigorous by this perfect medicine.

Remember the great advantage of having your medicine put up by Dr. Greene, a regular practicing physician, who guarantees his Nervura and will stand behind it at all times. Dr. Greene himself will give free consultation and advice, personally or by mail, at his office, 31 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., to all who call or write.

DIED IN HOSPITAL

Girl Labored to Bring Loved Ones Here

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—After saving her money for 14 years in order to bring her two sisters and a brother from the old country, Mary Canina, a young woman of Fitchburg, called away some weeks ago for Ireland. She returned on the Cunarder Saxonia, with the two sisters to join the brother, already here—thus completing the family circle. But tuberculosis developed on the trip and at the moment that her heart's desire was accomplished she died yesterday in the Carney hospital.

It was one of the saddest cases that has come to the attention of immigration inspectors in many weeks.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was 16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

CONFLICTING OPINIONS OF ROOSEVELT.

The city of Springfield is well supplied with newspapers in the Republican and the Union.

The former pays more attention to editorials than to such trifles as the publication of ordinary news. When the editor speaks he affects the presence and profundity of the Delphic oracle and somehow he has succeeded in convincing a great many journals that like the Pythia of old, he is inspired by some mysterious power. He certainly dashes off some very large chunks of wisdom and common sense, although as a prophet he is not regarded as a howling success.

The editor of the Republican, like many other editors, sees in Ex-President Roosevelt a great menace to this nation, while on the other hand the Springfield Union, a first class newspaper, that gives more attention to news than to editorials, is not disposed to share the Republican's alarm at the outlook of Roosevelt realizing his ambition and assuming a dictatorship in this country. It is not unusual to find two newspapers published in the same place agreeing upon anything. Accordingly we find the two Springfield papers in cordial disagreement over Col. Roosevelt. It will be interesting to contrast what they say relative to Roosevelt, his policies and his ambitions:

Speaking of Roosevelt the Republican says:

"The republicans who think as Charles H. Young does are not confined to New York state, and they are to be numbered in thousands and not hundreds. They see in the late conduct of Mr. Roosevelt and a certain frenzy of response which comes from the crowd behind him a danger which has seldom threatened us, but one which where it does arise in a republic must transcend all other public matters in importance. As against the menace of Caesarism all other troubles measure up very small and only of brief delay for a day of reckoning. And if Mr. Roosevelt carries New York state next month nothing can apparently stop his onward course to a substantial dictatorship in the nation if he chooses to follow it, and who expects from one so obviously intoxicated with the sense of power among men and the desire for more of it that he will choose otherwise?"

On Roosevelt, considered in a somewhat different aspect, The Springfield Union says:

"An agitator was needed, and Roosevelt proved to be the man for the work. Washington was for his time, Lincoln for his time, and when the times needed a man to deal with a new and vital situation the country had Roosevelt. Reforms are not accomplished by demanding too little. They come about only when more is asked than can immediately be had. If Roosevelt has seemed at times extreme it has been necessary in order to get any concession. Taft is not temperamentally fitted for agitation, any more than Roosevelt is temperamentally fitted for calm, judicial action. It has been the province of one to plow deep the furrows; of the other to do the harrowing. And that Mr. Taft has harrowed well is evidenced by the record of his administration."

Here then we have one very prominent, we might say, distinguished paper assailing Roosevelt as a menace to this country, and another very respectable paper expressing an opinion almost diametrically opposite. Moreover, the Republican is not a straight republican paper, as its name might indicate, but an independent, while the Union is loyally republican. We present these opposite views for the reason that they each represent the view of a very large proportion of the people of this country in regard to Col. Roosevelt.

About one-half the people believe that if he became president once more, he would be a veritable dictator, while the other half believe he is a necessary reformer, the man of the hour, whose policies would rectify the disorders and governmental abuses which afflict this country at the present time.

Thus a vast number consider Roosevelt a dangerously ambitious man; an equal number consider him a good and great man, while none denies his eminent ability as a man of letters and a political campaigner. Which of these conflicting views shall prove the more correct remains to be seen.

AN ENCOMIUM FOR SENATOR LODGE

The Andover Townsman is out for Senator Lodge's re-election and in the following piece of sonorous bombast lands his praises:

"The nation does not possess a man of larger constructive ability, a statesman with a wider horizon, a scholar of greater achievements, an orator of more commanding power than the senior senator from Massachusetts. His personality is no longer bound up in the Commonwealth alone, for he has been given to the nation by Massachusetts for a larger work than that which can be confined within Massachusetts' borders."

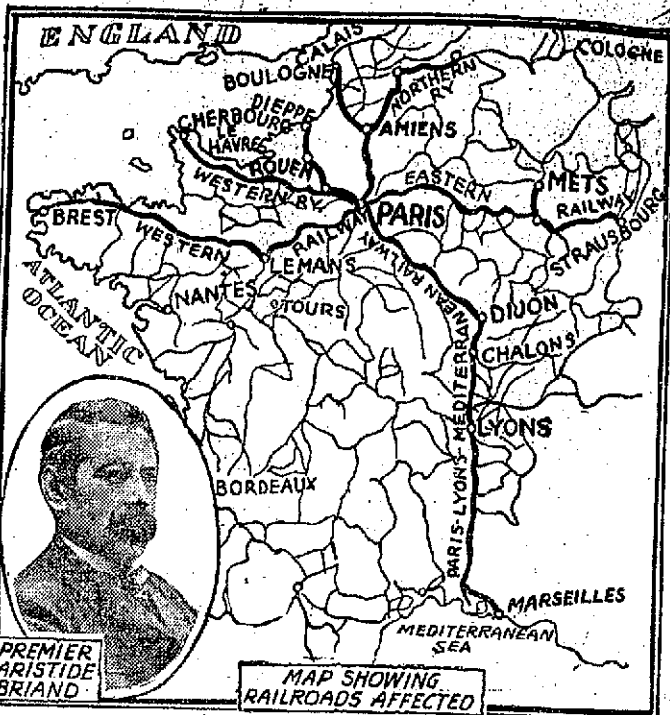

This, no doubt, is the utterance of John N. Cole, former speaker of the house. It might be well for The Townsman when next it refers to Senator Lodge's ability as a constructive statesman to mention any important measure of federal or state legislation that was introduced and carried through by Mr. Lodge. While we admit that Senator Lodge is a good talker we hold that as a constructive statesman he has been a conspicuous failure.

Wireless telegraphy, like the navigation of the air, is making rapid strides. It is but a few days since a wireless message was transmitted from Clifden, Ireland, to a new high power station in the Argentine Republic, a distance of 5,600 miles. From this achievement it appears that submarine cables are no longer indispensable to the transmission of intelligence across the Atlantic.

Very few have taken seriously the report that Frederick A. Cook, the fake explorer, is to take the lecture platform to prove that he discovered the North pole. Cook by his conduct has discredited himself forever. He can never retrieve his lost fame.

This is a dangerous time to start brush or forest fires. The police will have to keep close watch upon the boys who are in the habit of going into the woods to start brush fires.

ALL FRANCE SUFFERS AS RESULT OF RAILWAY STRIKE

PARIS, Oct. 14.—This city, which has suffered from so many strikes in recent years, is again like an armed camp. The four most important railroad systems are either completely or partly paralyzed. Troops guard the depots and the tracks. Soldiers are being called out under ancient law as reserves to run the trains. Many of these reserves are among the strikers, but the government insists that they must answer the call or be punished. The government is taking active measures. Orders have been issued for the arrest of strike leaders. Instructions have been given to the troops not to shrink from severity whenever it is required. Measures are being adopted similar to those practiced in time of war. Troops have been mobilized and sent to occupy the principal points on all the railroads. The great railroads of France are the Eastern, the Central, the Northern, the Western, the Paris, Lyons and Mediteranean, the State and the Belt lines. Their total trackage is nearly 25,000 miles, and their employees number about 300,000. No one now attempts to disguise the fact that the situation is grave. Already business in the capital is paralyzed. No suburban trains are running. Railroad communication with the ports of Cherbourg, Havre, Dieppe and Brest has stopped. But what is still more serious is that Paris is completely isolated so far as railroad service is concerned and is in peril of a food famine, for no supplies are coming in. The railroad managers cannot cope with the situation. The highways leading to Paris are black with humanity from early morning to late evening. The congestion at the city gates is frightful. Thousands of workmen trudging to or from work converge there. The demand for cabs and automobiles cannot be met, and prices for their hire have soared.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Arthur Baker, 700 East 40th street, Chicago, editor of America Express, has had prepared 100,000 brief grammars of Esperanto in pamphlet form, and will send one free to any person who is sufficiently interested to ask for it, enclosing a stamp for reply. The grammar has been prepared in order to give every person interested an opportunity to judge for himself regarding the probable value of this international medium of communication.

Writing in Harper's Weekly, Geo.

Jean Nathan presents an amusing picture of some of the difficulties encountered by census takers. The objections of women to stating their marital condition were especially hard to overcome. One woman admitted that she was divorced, but insisted upon being listed as a widow, because she thought it sounded more stylish. Another agreed to allow herself to be listed as divorced only if the phrase "with all-mony" were inscribed after the line. "I am not going to spoil my chances of getting married again," she argued. A woman of Toledo, O., told the census man that if he failed to chronicle the fact that she had been allowed the custody of the children, and that her husband was a brute, she would see to it that he "lost his job."

Keen interest has been aroused in all classes in England in the Earl of Plymouth's scheme to preserve the Crystal Palace at Sydenham, with its 200 splendid acres and its ideal position, as a memorial to Edward VII.

His plan is to form an acquisition fund to purchase and permanently endow the palace by means of 750,000 guinea subscriptions, subscribers to be life members of governors, according to the amount of their subscription. There should be a club, with library, dining rooms, tennis court, running track, school for physical culture, etc., for life members. There should be "technical schools of every description for male and female students," a school of music, and annual exhibitions of various kinds. In the theatre and concert hall should be given a year round high-class theatrical and musical entertainment. Each of the overseas governments would be given the opportunity of erecting a permanent pavilion in the palace grounds for the display of the products and resources of the country. And Lord Plymouth also suggests that a collection of busts and statues of "distinguished servants of the empire" be formed and placed within the palace. The palace and grounds with the exception of the life members' club, should be open to the public free four days of the week. And finally, Lord Plymouth suggests that the profits from investments and receipts, over the actual expenses and provision for a reserve fund should be devoted annually to King Edward's hospital fund for London or to other charities, to be selected by the "Governors."

An official announcement is made by the state department of information received from the Berlin embassy concerning the recent establishment of the "America Institut" in Berlin. Professor Hugo Munsterberg of Harvard university, exchange professor at Berlin for the current academic year, is the first director of the institution, which is founded and supported by American and German contributors with the object of furthering the "cultural relations" between the United States and the German empire. It is proposed that the institution serve as the medium of exchange for publication dealing with "educational and academic, literary and aesthetic, technical, intellectual and moral" questions in the two countries. The necessary funds for its establishment and maintenance have been assigned to the special work by the emperor from gifts by Mr. Koppel of Berlin and James S. Spoor of New York. The institute is strictly under German administration.

The Butler hospital and the Rhode Island hospital, both of Providence, R. I., will receive $10,000 each from the estate of the late Mrs. M. A. Shepard of that city. The Butler hospital will receive further sums also, which are left to it subject to the life interest of another person.

St. Vincent's hospital, New York, receives a bequest of $1000 by the will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Dunleavy.

The National Jewish hospital for Consumptives at Denver, Colo., receives a bequest of $1000 in the will of the late J. E. Schoenberg of New York.

Father John A. Kellner, late rector of St. Gabriel's church, New Rochelle, N. Y., in his will leaves $2000 to St. Joseph's hospital for Consumptives, and $1000 to St. Francis' hospital, New York.

By the will of the late Amelia P. Rumpf of Philadelphia, the sum of $1000 is bequeathed to the German hospital.

HAVEY MAKES A GREAT FIND IN TOURMALINES

POLAND, Me., Oct. 14.—Another big find has been made at the tourmaline mine of F. L. Havey of Lewiston. A third pocket was uncovered this week from which gems that weighed two pounds five and one-half ounces, or 3500 carats, were taken. A moderate estimate of the value of this find is $30,000.

Since he opened the first pocket five or six weeks ago, Mr. Havey has taken our tourmalines weighing in the aggregate about 13,000 carats. Tourmalines are worth from $6 to $20 a carat and are readily marketable.

At an average of $10, which is considered low, he has taken out $130,000 worth of gems in a few weeks and the end is not in sight.

There are some men, and quite a few young men, who have the feeling that in order to get satisfactory clothing they must have a suit made to measure. Above all others these are the men we want to interest in Rogers-Peet's clothing—the best made in America.

For $20.00 this season we have provided eight patterns of Rogers-Peet's suits in young men's and men's sizes from 32 to 46 breast measure and it is going to be a happy surprise to those who don't know about this best "ready made" to discover how admirably it fits, how splendidly tailored it is, how stylish and attractive the suits appear when on.

There's this about it tho'—there's no guess work when you can try on a suit, see how it fits and if it's becoming before you put good money into it.

We shall be glad of the opportunity to show you these suits and have you try them on—you'll not be importuned to buy. If you want to pay more we'll take you by easy stages through the whole range of Rogers-Peet's suits—imported Scotch suitings and all—up to the limit—$40.00.

There is a suprisingly large and interesting stock of the new smart cheviot suits, gray mixtures and brown effects in men's and young men's sizes at such moderate prices as $10, $12 and $15—all new, all coats with hand felled collars—all better than you'll find elsewhere for so little money.

"JOE" THOMAS Did Not Fight Last Night

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Joe Thomas, the California middleweight, and "Jumbo" Wells, the rising local heavy, failed to engage in their scheduled ten-round mix-up at the Long Acre A. A. last night. When the pair were matched, Wells agreed to weigh in at 165 pounds, but when he tipped the scales last evening he found himself thirteen pounds overweight. Thomas then refused to box with him. After "Kid" Phillips whipped "Kid" Teague in ten rounds, the management issued "rain checks" for the next show.

THE JESUITS PRAISED BY SECY DICKINSON FOR THEIR WORK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—According to information received here Secretary of War Dickinson, who recently visited the Philippines on his round-the-world trip, highly commended the work being done by the Jesuit fathers at the Manila observatory. He expressed his own appreciation and that of his government of the services of these men, who have up their Spanish citizenship to serve the United States as its official weather forecasters in the Philippines.

At the American assumption of the reins of government there, the Jesuit fathers were the only men in the islands capable of carrying on scientific weather investigations. The astronomical observatory at Georgetown university, conducted by Jesuits in this city, frequently makes public reports of earthquakes in various parts of the world long before the government weather bureau.

VERDICT OF $3000

FOR WOMAN STRUCK BY A FALLING BALLOON

DOVER, N. H., Oct. 14.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Caroline Canney of Farmington vs. the Rochester fair association, which opened in the superior court Wednesday morning, reported yesterday afternoon, after being out three hours, a verdict for the plaintiff with damages assessed at $3000. Mrs. Canney sued for $10,000 for injuries received by being struck by a falling balloon Sept. 22, 1909, while driving to Rochester with her sister. She had watched the balloon rise from the fair ground until it disappeared in the clouds. The empty envelope shot down with great force, it was claimed, covering the rig she and her sister were in and injuring her spine.

CARD PARTY UNDER AUSPICES OF SACRED HEART HOLY NAME SOCIETY

The Holy Name society of the Sacred Heart parish held a card party in the school hall last evening. About 75 couples were present, and all thoroughly enjoyed the evening's program. LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

At the Opera House last night, the Ringville Bugle-Folks attracted a fair sized audience that was kept in continual laughter by the antics of these merry makers. The talented legal light Alvin Hilber and the loquacious constable, Seth Dewberry, Bud Hinkley and a great many other folks from Ringville and Hardscrabble gave an excellent presentation of Newton Newkirk's creation. There was a love story, a hero and a villain, characters to be found in every community and of course in Ringville. Everything wound up all right. The villain was routed and loving hearts were united.

THOMAS A. WISE All roads will lead to the Opera House tonight when the eminent comedian, Thomas A. Wise in "A Gentleman from Mississippi," will be the attraction. That this is one of the looked for events of the theatrical year is evidenced by the large advance sale which positively ensures a packed house. "A Gentleman from Mississippi" is of interest to everyone, rich and poor, old and young. It is clean in its dialogue and innocent in its fun. There is no horse-play; the fun is not foolish, and the pathos and love story are not allowed to become tedious. When many of the plays that are now being presented to theatre-goers are forgotten "A Gentleman from Mississippi" will remain green in the memory. Wm. A. Brady will send for this engagement the entire cast that supported Mr. Wise during his memorable 16 weeks' run at the Park theatre, Boston, last season. Mr. Wise will appear in his celebrated original role of Senator

BE PROPERLY DRESSED

Whether You Spend $10 or Whether You Spend $25

The aim of the MERRIMACK CLOTHING COMPANY is to satisfy every customer—to place before you the greatest variety from the best makers at the price you wish to pay. If you feel that $10 is the price you want to pay for a fall Suit or Overcoat, it is here, with the same attention you could get if you paid $25, viz.: The services of expert tailors free; the same care in protecting it from dirt and dust, all clothing hanging pressed, ready-to-wear, in dust proof cabinets, (the only store in Lowell having this system); the pressing of your clothes as often as you wish—all these attentions are given absolutely free by the MERRIMACK CLOTHING COMPANY whether you pay $10 or whether you pay $25 for your fall Suit or Overcoat.

So you see the MERRIMACK'S plan is to serve the people intelligently and well—not merely a portion of the people, but the public at large—and the MERRIMACK is doing this and doing it so well that their patronage is increasing in a most gratifying manner.

This week the MERRIMACK wants you to see the greatest values in Men's Fall Suits and Overcoats at $20.00 ever shown in Lowell. It's the biggest and most convincing showing at this price ever shown in New England.

Their large show windows are given over to a style exposition of Suits and Overcoats at $20.00, that represents but a small fraction of what they show inside.

We advise you to see this attractive Clothing Store, and the up-to-date way the MERRIMACK CLOTHING COMPANY, Across From City Hall, has for caring for your clothing wants—it will repay you.

SOMETHING NEW AT LAST

The Katzes and Phelan Amusement Co. promises an innovation in the amusement line during its engagement at the Opera House all next week, with daily matinees starting Tuesday, when it will present "The Real Comedian," George Ovey, supported by a company of forty people in a repertoire of up-to-date musical comedies, consisting of "Coming Thru the Rye," "A Knight for a Day," "Isle of Spice" and "The Show Girl."

These famous musical comedies have never been presented at popular prices, and they will be presented here in a manner superior to that of many of the higher priced companies. A carload of special scenery and electrical effects is carried by the company, and each piece is presented exactly as the original was. As regards musical numbers, lighting effects, costumes etc.

The question is often asked, "How can these pieces be presented in an adequate manner, when the highest price of admission is fifty cents?" The answer is: That the theatregoing public has responded in such a generous manner by attending the different performances that they have made it possible to witness a $1.50 entertainment for popular prices.

The engagement will open Monday night with "A Knight for a Day," commencing Tuesday, daily matinees will be given. Tuesday night "Coming Thru the Rye" will be presented, and this simple announcement should be sufficient to all the theatre on this occasion. Wednesday night, "The Isle of Spice" will be presented, and Thursday night "The Show Girl." Each of the above comedies will be given a matinee presentation. The prices during the engagement will be: 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents at night, and 10, 20 and 30 cents at matinee performances. Sale of seats for the entire week is now open.

BLANCHE RING

Fresh from a prosperous run at the Herald Square theatre in New York, Blanche Ring comes to the opera house soon in "The Yankee Girl." The latter vehicle is a new musical play authored by George V. Hobart and Sylvio Hain. Miss Ring's support includes Harry Gillott, William P. Carleton, Bertha Shalek, Margarite Wright, Juan Williams, Cyril Ring, Halliday and Curley, Margaret Malcolm, Paul Foster, William de Ball, Fannie Skidston and B. J. Caldwell. Miss Ring's song successes this season include "Nora Malone," "The Top O' the Morning," "Louisiana Elizabeth," "The Wise Fisherman," and in response to repeated demands the always popular "Kings On My Fingers." The scenic equipment provided "The Yankee Girl" by Lew Fields and Frederic McKay, Miss Ring's managers, is elaborate.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

"Brin's Isle" is one of the biggest and best acts ever presented in this theatre, and the singing of Miss Hortense Searle is a revelation. It is one beautiful production. Herbert Brooks is the best manipulator of cards in the vaudeville business, and his trunk sonation is truly wonderful. It must be seen to be appreciated, and of Hammond & Forrester, no comment need be made. They stand supreme in their line. Don't fail to see this big show. Moving pictures and three acts of vaudeville. Admission, 5 and 10 cents.

COLONIAL THEATRE

This beautiful amusement house the latest to be opened in this city, gave a delightful entertainment to a large audience last evening. The attendance was a capacity one and not another person could have been seated. Judging from the applause that greeted the efforts of the entire talent last evening the house will draw large audiences if the bills which are to come are of the standard of the one presented last evening.

Among the strong features of the bill was the number of the Tremont Comedy Four which is one of the best group of harmony singers on the vaudeville stage. Each has a voice of exceptionally good quality and they were heard in several solos including the latest classical and sentimental songs. The great feature of the show last evening was the singing of "Silver Threads Among the Gold," a song which forty years ago was the leading song of the day and which apparently does not grow old.

Rita Murri, a comedienne of considerable merit occupies a prominent position on the bill and she was awarded a grand ovation. She has songs which are bound to please, and are far superior to those heard in this city for some time.

John Martin, the man with the xylophone can certainly "hammer the wood" with lightning like rapidity. His funniest piece was the "Poon and Poonant" and he was given hearty applause. His other selections were solos from the popular operas and these also were applauded.

Moving pictures form the latter part of the program.

The Colonial is beyond a doubt one of the leading show houses of this city.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Emil Greder, the former Metropolitan Opera company singer and barytone of international reputation, and Madame Greder, a charming soprano, made a hit with their program of grand opera selections at the grand opera night performance at the Merrimack Square theatre last night.

The Grederes are on the program for the rest of the week of course, along with a lot of other entertaining vaudeville features. There is Blake's animal circus, with Maud, the original bucking mule.

The Scent Stock company has a delightful vehicle for the talents of the rest of the week, a play, "Tim the Blacksmith," James T. Waters appears in an immediate bill, a character sketch with some catchy songs. Fred Pearsall is a baritone soloist. Excellent moving pictures are also on the bill.

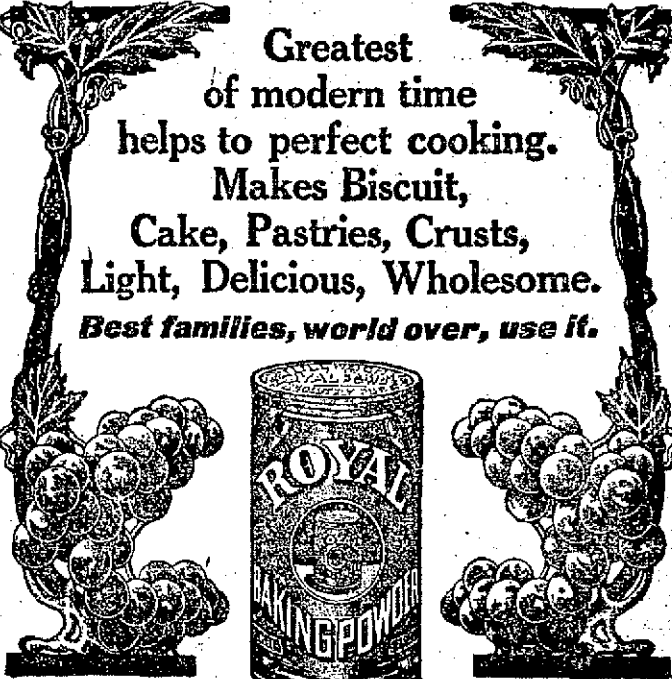

THEATRE VOYONS

In every amusement program is to be found one number that stands far above the rest, even though the general quality of the bill be the highest. This is just the case at the Theatre Voyons today, for "The Last of the Saxons" is one picture in several that meets the approval of even the severest critic. It is well staged, magnificently acted and its story, though of olden times, is one that holds the attention of everyone. The Vitagraph company, its makers, have produced many masterpieces, but has none that equals this.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

A record-making aeroplane from the Glenn H. Curtiss factory in Hammondsport, N. Y., is on exhibition at Hathaway's theatre, this week, and it will undoubtedly draw hundreds of persons who are deeply interested in the subject of aviation. The trail machine can be seen at close range, and

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Greatest of modern time helps to perfect cooking. Makes Biscuit, Cake, Pastries, Crusts, Light, Delicious, Wholesome. Best families, world over, use it.

All questions concerning it will be answered by Lecturer Fleming, who has accompanied it through the country.

"The Bandit," a strikingly good melodrama, is acted faultlessly by E. Frederick Hawley and company. The death scene of Hawley is given with marvelous facility to nature, and the entire playlet is filled with sustained suspense. Kelley & Lafferty are a premier dancing pair, the little woman proving herself a toe dancer of ability, while the man's impersonation of Laddie Cliff is good. Other acts on the bill are: Lorraine, Dudley & Co., in "The Finish"; George H. Wood, blackface comedian; Four Musical Hodges, and Laypo and Benjamin, acrobats.

Performances will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week, with special seats at the matinees for women.

EMPIRE THEATRE

The Empire started yesterday to run special matinees at 5 cents admission. The show is the three big act show, consisting these three days of the Carones and their dog. They are expert jugglers and their little trained dog has some novel stunts. Eddie Paul, the Dutch musician, plays some real good selections. Ted and Clara Steele are the funmakers on the program, and are a big hit. The moving pictures, which are good, complete the program.

WILL SET HIGH AIR MARK FOR INTERNATIONAL AVIATION TOURNAMENTS

"WINGS OF THE MORNING" OF HUMAN FLIGHT.

By CHARLES N. LURIE.

LAST year at Rheims the high air mark was set for international aviation tournaments. It will be surpassed at Belmont park, New York, this month—surpassed so greatly indeed that the achievements of Glenn H. Curtiss and the others in France will recede into the dark ages of the history of human flight. They have been obscured already by this year's feats of the "man birds," but after the history of the Belmont park meeting is written even the latter will be eclipsed. This is not a rash prophecy. It is the well reasoned expectation of the men best versed in the new science of flying in heavier than air machines.

The very enumeration of the men who will compete at Belmont park sends a thrill of anticipation through the informed reader. We have all heard of Curtiss, Wright, Hamilton, Brookins, Baldwin, Shriver, Moisant, of America, Le Blanc, Latham, De Lesseps, Morane of France, Radley, Grahame-White of England, Oleslager of Belgium and the other famous fliers, and we hear with delight that they have brought or will bring to the meeting place the machines in which they have striven for and achieved the world's records in speed, distance, height and continuous flight. The men named, with others who will pit their skill against them, are the fliers who have been thrilling the world recently with their daring feats in the air. But it is a safe inference from the international character and importance of the coming meeting that they have reserved their best for the days beginning Oct. 22 and ending Oct. 30 at the famous race track on Long Island.

The International Aeronautic federation is the body under the auspices of which the great meeting will be held. It is recognized as the governing body of aviators the world over and holds close relationship with the leading aeronautical societies of the various countries. Its special prize at the coming meeting is the trophy shown in the accompanying illustration—the "coupe internationale d'aviation," or international speed trophy, which was won by Curtiss last year at Rheims. Possession of this trophy determines the place of the subsequent annual international meeting. The fact that it was won by Curtiss, an American, last year brought to the United States this year the international meeting. It need scarcely be added that our fliers are determined to retain the cup here for at least another year.

Much Cash Offered in Prizes.

Other prizes there will be in abundance at Belmont park. The committee in charge of the American end of the affair is composed of men of wealth and high standing, with Allan A. Ryan at their head. They have spared neither time nor money in making the arrangements for the tournament. The amount of the money prizes offered to the aviators was figured recently at more than $55,000, with more cash in prospect as the time of the contests approached and men of wealth warmed up to the opportunities of awarding skill and daring in the air. One man whose name was not divulged was so carried away with enthusiasm over the tournament that he offered $5,000 to the man who would ascend 10,000 feet or more at Belmont park. Ten thousand feet, almost two miles up in the lullable atmosphere—think of it! Why, less than two years ago we were marveling over the great record of Wilbur Wright, who flew 352 feet at a height of but a few feet in the air, remaining in the air but fifty-nine seconds. Today we hear of flights 5,000 feet high, of flights lasting more than five hours, of men flying 100 miles or more without alighting and of speeds of sixty to seventy miles an hour. Verily, "brethren, the world do move," as the old colored preacher used to say.

It is asserted that the contests at Belmont park will be primarily tests not of men, but of machines. That is not to say, of course, that the machines will operate themselves or that the skill and daring of their operators will not be determining factors in many cases. But among the learned in such matters interest at Belmont park will not be centered on the fact that a Wright or a Curtiss or a Le Blanc or a Cattaneo or a Grahame-White or an Oleslager is in the air at any given time, but that he is flying in a Wright biplane or an Antoinette monoplane or a Bleriot monoplane or a Farmman flying machine. After all, the men are but passing figures.

All Sorts of Aeroplanes.

Monoplane, biplane and triplane, machines embodying every successful and tentative idea of the aviators—all will be seen in operation at Belmont park. Probably the machine best represented numerically will be the Bleriot monoplane, manufactured by the Frenchman who won international fame by making the first air passage across the English channel. He finished second to Curtiss at Rheims last year. At least seven Bleriot machines will be used at Belmont park. M. Bleriot himself, like the Wright brothers, flies but seldom nowadays, devoting his entire time to the building and improvement of his machines. Among the "crews" of the Bleriot at the tournament will be some of the greatest of the air men, such as Le Blanc, Morane and Moisant. The advance in aeronautical science is well illustrated by the fact that some of the Bleriot machines will have motors of 100 horsepower each.

Every effort has been made to provide an attractive program for the 100,000 or more spectators expected to flock daily to Belmont park. An idea of the anticipated magnitude of the crowd may be gained from the statement of the fact that parking space has been provided for 5,000 automobiles. The roads of Long Island are well adapted for automobile travel, and during the aviation meet every road will lead to Belmont park. A few of the most daring of the aviators are expected to find their way to the course by the air route, but the idea has not been encouraged by the committee, which is taking every precaution to avert such accidents as that at Asbury park, where a too venturesome aviator literally "dropped in."

"Something Doing" All the Time.

While the program of the tournament calls for flights beginning at 1:30 p. m. every day of the meet, it is expected that there will be "something doing" every daylight minute and even after nightfall. The main events will take place over a 2,500 meter course, the start and finish of each race taking place directly in front of the grand stand. By the way, that grand stand will be in itself a center of attraction when the notice of the spectators is taken temporarily from the "bird men." Some of the best known society people of New York and elsewhere have subscribed for the boxes and will furnish an unprecedented "sideshow" of beauty and fashion.

"As Honest as Any Man Living"

READER, are you an honest man?

Not an ordinarily honest man, one who seems to put the big apples of his business dealings at the top of the barrel and the little ones at the bottom, but an absolutely honest man—let us say a man like Robert C. Winters of New York and John F. Shafroth of Colorado. If you are not, hide your head in diminished make of the immigrant inspectors who direct me to the Bronx. I want to pin a medal on the breast of the man I've been looking for ever since the fifth century B. C., the absolutely honest man. I understand he lives somewhere in the northernmost borough of the city in front of me.

And after the old cynic philosopher had landed at the Battery and had ridden about eleven miles north on the elevated railroad he would find the em-hold your breaths, the thousands of chair warmers in this office filled nation—that there was not work enough for him to do to warrant him in signing the monthly payroll.

It was no mealy, little, plinkish office that Mr. Winters resigned either. It paid him $4,000 a year, which is considerably above the average of salaries, official and nonofficial. Let us hear Mr. Winters' reasons. They are interesting:

"A man who receives money in a public office and then does not return the full equivalent in work is a grafter, a parasite in the heart of the nation's government. He is obtaining money under false pretenses as much as the man who forges his neighbor's name to a check. He is deliberately robbing his government and in doing so is taking money from the pockets of the taxpayers who furnish funds for the government's maintenance."

Good words, brave words, well and nobly spoken! They ought to be blazoned in letters of gold on the principal facade of every municipal building in the forty-six states. Perhaps if the spirit behind them were more prevalent in our city governments we could defend ourselves more successfully than now against the attacks of Bryce and other foreign critics of our systems of municipal government. If American cities are the worst governed in the world, as is so frequently asserted, it is because there are not in our cities more men like Robert C. Winters.

Let the readers sit down with their consciences and ask themselves whether they would give up $4,000 a year jobs because the jobs were unnecessary; because they could not do $4,000 worth of work for their respective cities in a year. How many of them would measure up to the standard?

Let us be thankful that in this respect the west balances the east. To New York's proud proclamation of the name and fame of Winters Colorado replies with the record of John F. Shafroth, governor of the state and recently renominated, who proved his honesty in 1904 by resigning a seat in the national house of representatives because, without his knowledge, his election had been tainted with fraud.

Mr. Shafroth's stand was taken voluntarily. His opponent, Robert W. Bonynge, had contested his election to the house, and the matter had been referred to a committee. An investigation showed irregularities, whereupon Mr. Shafroth arose at his desk in the house and relinquished his office in straightforward, manly terms that evoked instant response in the minds and voices of his fellow members. Mr. Olmsted of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, later declared that the investigation exonerated Mr. Shafroth from any connection with the frauds. The committee had taken no action toward formulating its report on the case, and Mr. Shafroth's relinquishment of his seat was based on the showing made by the handwriting expert employed to examine the ballots. Amid the silence of the house, in a scene that is still recalled by some of its members, Mr. Shafroth was unseated and Mr. Bonynge became a representative from Colorado.

"Cynical persons who affect to believe that honesty, unselfishness and a high sense of personal honor are lacking in American political life will find no support for that view in the action of Representative Shafroth," said a contemporary chronicler. "It is a noble example for a public official to set, and we hope that it will have an everlasting influence upon American politics," said another, while a third declared his belief that Mr. Shafroth "will probably rank with Abraham Lincoln in American history as an honest politician."

WALTON WILLIAMS.

More Cities Adopt Commission.

In recent elections for commission government the new rule was defeated in Eldorado, Kan.; Fort Pierre, S. D.; and Grand Forks, N. D. Abilene, Kan., adopted it by a vote of four to one. A remarkable feature of the commission government movement is noted in the very small percentages of the cities that have rejected it, even in the first attempt to abolish the old ward system, and in the number of cities that have reversed their first vote and adopted the commission plan in the second attempt.

In Kansas sixteen cities have voted on the proposition to adopt the modern form of government. Twelve of these cities voted affirmatively. In Kansas City, Kan., and Coffeyville two attempts were necessary, but the second election, within a year after its defeat, made the victory for the new rule an easy one in both cities. Fort Scott, Eldorado, Winfield and Hlawatha also have defeated the plan in the first election.

In Iowa only one of the five cities that have voted on commission government defeated the measure, and that was Sioux City, which adopted it by a big majority in its second trial a few weeks ago.

Three towns out of four in North Dakota to vote on the new rule adopted it the first election. Grand Forks defeated it by a small majority in the election of March 1. In South Dakota, out of six towns to vote on the proposition, four have adopted the commission plan.

The fact that the people everywhere show such willingness to abolish what the conservatives call "a time honored institution" is undoubtedly attributable in a large measure to the obvious inefficiency of the ward plan to meet modern requirements in municipal government, but the real inspiration of the movement for commission government is in the fact that it provides a way by which the people can secure the kind of government they want at a reduced cost to the taxpayers.

HALLOWEEN MEMORIES

'Tis fifty years, perhaps, or more
Since I, an urchin, standing
One Halloween at Brown's back door
With whistle low, commanding
The lad that lingered still within
To join the midnight frolic;
Seemed like a leader who, with din
Of drum and pipe bucolic,
Calls all his countrymen to arms
And, with the hordes advancing,
Sweeps on to war with loud alarms,
Each mile his power enhancing.

It seems, forsooth, but yesternight
When, with slow paces cringing,
We seek beneath the moon's pale light
The garden gate's unbarring,
With fingers deft the blacksmith's sign
Finds place o'er dentist's shingle;
Doorplate of doctor and draine
In motley mixture mingle
With milliner's aesthetic art,
While garlands gay intertwining
Have changed the humble garbage cart
To coach of fairy, shining.

The roguish eyes that from behind
The jack-o'-lantern's glimmer
Peeped through the latticed window
blind,
Although with age grown dimmer,
Still see into my heart today
And memories keen awaken
That, lo, for years a slumbering lay,
But me have ne'er forsaken.
Oh, Halloween—oh, Halloween,
Thou dream of bygone pleasures!
How dearer is thy fading scene
Than countless golden treasures!

pride after reading this story. If you are, step up on the platform with the two aforementioned gentlemen and share in the plaudits of the multitude. Don't crowd, please. There's lots of room.

If old Diogenes sailed from Greece today in the steerage of a liner and landed at Ellis Island with his famous lantern the first request he would boast of his ideal of perfect honesty in Robert C. Winters, until recently assistant superintendent of public buildings of Bronx borough.

Mark that "until recently," for there by hangs this tale. The reason for it is found in Mr. Winters' resignation of his former office, and the reason for his resignation is found in the fact—

Executor's Sale of Estate of Charles E. Adams

SITUATED ON KIRK, WILDER AND WALKER STREETS, ON SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1910, AT 2, 3 AND 3.30 O'CLOCK P. M., RESPECTIVELY.

At the time above named, on the several premises will be offered at public auction for homes or investment, the most valuable and best located real estate offered for sale this year—Estate No. 56 Kirk street, being part of brick block and 236.66 square feet of land, well located for a down-town home or for renting purposes. This house is well built, steam heated throughout, and has front and back parlors, dining-room, kitchen and pantry on first floor; three large and one small room and bathroom on second floor; on top floor, two large square and two small rooms and storeroom. This house rents for $40 per month. Will be open for inspection at 1 o'clock p.m. on day of sale.

Estate No. 218 Wilder St., Cor. Columbus Ave.

With 12,375 square feet of land, finely located for a home or can be easily changed into two tenements. The house has parlor, living room, dining-room, kitchen and laundry on first floor; four square rooms, two back rooms and bath on second, maid's room on third; also large, well-lighted, high-ceilinged billiard room on third. This house is steam heated, with hardwood floors in rooms on first and second floors, and has lately been painted and put in perfect repair. Good judges estimate that to duplicate this house at the present prices would cost at least $15,000. There is land enough in rear of the premises to erect another house without damage to remainder of the property. Premises will be open for inspection after 1 o'clock on day of sale.

Estate No. 257 Walker St., Near Columbus Ave.

Consisting of cottage house, with parlor, living-room, bedroom, bath, kitchen and shed on first floor; with three chambers on second floor. Stable in the rear with two stalls and room for four carriages. There are 26,720 square feet of land, in good location for building and renting purposes. Can be seen after 2.30 p.m. on day of sale.

Terms: The sum of $300 to be paid to auctioneer on the two first named properties, and $100 on the last, as soon as struck off. Per order of JOHN J. HARVEY, Executor.

Man Was Run Over by Wagon

Peter Durant, residing at 57 Marshall street and employed by the C. H. Hanson Co., met with a painful injury in front of the Howe Lumber Co. in Dutton street about eight o'clock this morning as a result of being run over by a heavy wagon. The ambulance was called and the injured man was removed to the Lowell hospital, where it was found that he suffered an injury to his left leg and had a bad cut over one of his eyes.

SEN. DOLLIVER IMPROVED

FORT DOLGE, Ia., Oct. 14.—Senator Dolliver was reported improved today. There are no bad symptoms.

PERSONALS

Messrs. L. P. Turcotte, J. H. Guillet and Paul Vignat attended the annual reunion of the Societe Historique Franco-Americaine, at the Boston City Club Wednesday. The speakers were Prof. Joseph Edmond Roy of Laval University, Quebec, who spoke on "Duching in Canada," Prof. Tyrone of Harvard University, and the Hon. Hugo A. Dubouche of Fall River.

Mr. and Mrs. Henri Robichon of Three Rivers, who are on their wedding journey, are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Lamoureux. Mrs. Robichon, formerly Miss Jeannette Rousseau and a sister of Mrs. Lamoureux, counts several friends in this city, where she has frequently visited. The marriage was solemnized Oct. 4.

Miss Katherine O'Neill of 11 Carter avenue and Miss Elizabeth Duffy of 414 School street have returned from a week's stay in New York city.

Saturday, Oct. 15, 1910, 3 P.M.

On the premises and at the time above mentioned will be sold at public auction a six-room cottage house located at 37 Rippling street, Lowell, Mass. The lot consists of 3500 square feet of land, well fenced, giving a chance to have a garden or keep hens, and the house has parlor, dining room and kitchen, besides a shed and water closet on the first floor, and three good chambers upstairs, with a good cellar under the whole house.

This cottage is within two minutes' walk of the electric car line on Lawrence street, is very near good schools and churches, has gas, city water, connected with sewer, and is in a good location.

To some family wishing to own their own home, this sale offers a rare chance, as $500 can remain on the mortgage at 5 per cent. interest. $1000-$1500 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as property is struck off. Per order Z. M. WRIGHT.
